

PRISONER IS MORTALLY WOUNDED IN COURTROOM
BY UNCLE WHOM HIS TESTIMONY HAD CONVICTED

Negligence and "Barbarism" Is Charged to Grady

ACCIDENT VICTIM
ASSERTS DOCTORS
NEGLECTED INJURY

Claims That He Was Taken to Hospital at Midnight and Left Unattended Three Hours.

POLICE COMMISSIONER
ATTACKS TREATMENT

No Anesthetic Used in Operation, Says Barrett. Physicians Testify for Management.

Charges flew thick and fast against Grady hospital Monday night at the second session of the councilmanic committee probing alleged mismanagement and inefficiency at the institution.

Floyd Nelson, an employee of the Southern Bell Telephone company, testified that two years ago he sustained a broken leg in a motorcycle accident. He was carried to Grady hospital, he said, and attendants put him in the hall, where he was left from shortly before midnight until 3 o'clock the next morning without attention.

He stated a nurse then came along and rolled him into a room, after which she gave him two or three hypodermic shots. He said he asked her to call up and notify his employers of the accident, but she replied that the rules of the institution prevented such a step.

Finally, according to his story, a friend went out and secured two doctors to set his leg, and he charged that when they were brought in three Grady doctors appeared and told him they were ready to set the limb, but that if the two private surgeons operated he would have to go to another hospital.

Police Commissioner Ellis Barrett testified to what he termed "an act of barbarism," which, he said, he witnessed in the emergency clinic of the institution last Saturday night.

According to his testimony he, Commissioner Andy King, Commissioner W. H. Johnson, and call officers on duty at police station went to the scene of a cutting affray between two negroes at the corner of Decatur and Butler streets. When they arrived, he stated, the principals had disappeared but that they followed a trail of blood from there to Grady.

When they reached the hospital, stated the commissioner, they found a young negro girl with her foot badly slashed and a surgeon at work sewing up the wound. "The surgeon had used no local anesthetic," he continued, "and said 'shut up, I've got 16 more stitches to take yet.' When he finished with the girl, the other negro wouldn't let him sew up his hurts and got out."

"I told someone connected with the hospital standing nearby that somebody ought to take a stick and beat that doctor's brains out," he replied. "Oh, he treats 'em all that way."

Commissioner Barrett's story was substantiated by Commissioners King, Johnson and the police officers.

Other witnesses who had charges to make were W. H. Jones, of 621-2 Piedmont avenue; Police Officer R. A. McDonald, Paul Jones, an employee of a local medical concern, and C. H. Glass, of 33 Dalrymple street, who swore that a fee was demanded for an X-ray examination of a man whom he carried to the hospital with an injured wrist following an automobile accident.

These registering complaints against the institution were put on the stand by Attorney Carl Hutcheson, counsel representing C. A. Schultz, whose charges brought on the councilmanic inquiry.

Another session of the committee will be held next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Physicians Are Called.
Proceeding the complaining witnesses, Superintendent Steve R. Johnston called to the stand successively nearly a score of the leading physicians and surgeons of Atlanta, members of the visiting staff of Grady, all of whom testified that the hospital's management was excellent.

Mr. Johnston requested the privi-

Women Sculptors
Defend Feminizing
'Vice' In Statuary

Lady Artists Say Female Symbols for Temptation Are Perfectly Proper.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

(United News Staff Correspondent.) New York, March 27.—Civic virtue, that statue of the untalented, unshod longshoreman wiping his feet on the handsome withers of two fish girls, may yet go up in City Hall park, New York, over the artistic protests of Mayor John F. Hylan and the Bushwick Ladies' Culture club. Two of the most famous women sculptors in the world are considering whether to be present at the next art session of the aesthetic board of estimate, ten days hence, to inform the critics of civic virtue why it is proper to symbolize temptation with the feminine figure.

Mrs. Clara Sheridan, who sculpted a bust of Lenin and has been writing for the magazines ever since, and Sally Jane Farnham, author of many highly artistic conceptions in marble, both believe that Frederick MacMonnies, creator of civic virtue, should be explained from the artistic point of view.

MacMonnies, it will be remembered, disclaimed any intention of degrading womanhood in symbolizing temptation as he did. And when the critics of his statue clamored only louder he snapped back: "Well, they aren't women! They're sirens and when you take a siren off a fire-engine it's a fish. The man isn't stepping on two women. He's stepping on a couple of fish."

Those Women Voters.
Fish haven't any vote, but 400,000 New York women have. Further, his honor knows something about fish, even if no man alive knows about women, and his said these weren't fish. Maybe their name was fish—like Mary Jane Fish and Julia Jerusha Fish—but they weren't personal fish, like, say, herring or gulfsturgeon.

Therefore, he called these hearings. Mrs. Sheridan and Miss Farnham were not present at the first session when the art committee of the ladies' auxiliary of the First Ward Democratic Marching club wanted to put trousers and a high hat on the longshoreman and chase the fish girls out from under his feet. But they have followed the controversy and, without even sampling the fish theory, they maintain that the statue is ethically correct and artistically beautiful.

Too Sex-Consious.
"Surely no woman should object to the idea of a virtuous young man resisting the wiles of a couple of sirens," Miss Farnham said, but she did not answer the horrified protest of the marching club ladies, which deals with the fact that the longshoreman wears no trousers.

"American women, I'm afraid, are too sex-conscious," said Mrs. Sheridan, laying aside her diary, "although just what they have to be so touchy about, I'm sure I do not know."

Lay artists with no objection to the statue itself are beginning to object to the name. They want the name to be "Fresh Fish."

POISON IS FATAL
TO MRS. PUCKETT

Woman Takes Dose of Lysol After Receiving Letter, Which Made Her Despondent.

Mrs. Lee Puckett, 28 years old, of 165 Kirkwood avenue, died at the Grady hospital shortly before 11 o'clock as the result of swallowing several ounces of lysol Monday morning. Her act is said to have followed the receipt of a letter from her husband, which caused her to become despondent.

Mrs. Puckett made two attempts to end her life Monday, according to Mrs. Nancy Ratteree, who lives at the same address. Mrs. Ratteree states that Mrs. Puckett received a letter, believed to have come from her husband, from whom she had been separated for several weeks, immediately after which she attempted to drink a bottle of lysol but was prevented from doing so by Mrs. Ratteree, who knocked the bottle out of her hand.

According to Mrs. Ratteree, Mrs. Puckett immediately purchased another bottle of lysol which she drank. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mrs. Ratteree called for the ambulance. She is survived by her husband, two sisters, Mrs. O. K. Whitely and Mrs. E. M. Moore and two brothers, J. C. and E. S. North. The body was taken to Harry G. Poole's undertaking parlors. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

NEW MODIFICATION OF SHOALS OFFER
REQUIRED OF FORD

Congressional Party Inspects Gorgas Plant and Decides Clear Titles Cannot Be Given.

ACCEPTANCE FAVORED
IF FORD MEETS TERMS

Otherwise Formation of Muscle Shoals Commission to Complete Wilson Dam Is Probable Action.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON,

Staff Correspondent.

Gorgas, Ala., March 27.—(Special From Congressional Private Train.) When the joint committees of the senate and house concurred in investigations and inspections tonight of the interlinked power plant and relating properties of the government and the Alabama Power company at this point, the demand for a fee simple title to the government's share being one of the conditions of the Henry Ford proposition for the Muscle Shoals holdings, three paramount facts stood out with peculiar boldness.

First, that the Warrior river power plant at Gorgas cannot be successfully separated and that the government unit cannot be operated without the acquisition either by friendly lease in purchase or connection of the power company connecting unit; second, that the consensus of opinion among the 23 members of the upper and lower houses here is that it will be necessary for Ford to either disassociate the Gorgas plant from the Muscle Shoals properties, in his offer, or accept a quit claim of the government right without any guarantee as to an unclouded title, if he is to be further considered seriously to final decision of the properties; and, third, that if Henry Ford will permit of a modification of his proposal so as to absorb the government property, acquiring the Gorgas titles, and will agree to assume the expense of the flowage right at Muscle Shoals dam No. 3, where the abutments are also owned by the Alabama Power company.

Continued on page 6, column 3.

When Men Vote
'Women or Wine'
Guess Who Wins?

A Woman Is Only a Woman, But a Bottle of Wine Is a Drink.

Charlotte, Iowa, March 27.—Women or wine? Charlotte voters considered this momentous question Monday and chose wine, by a 47 majority.

A ticket of women, headed by Mrs. James McDermott, candidate for mayor, had as its slogan: "Down With Bootleggers." The women conducted a lively campaign against illicit liquor, which is alleged to be flowing freely here, particularly home-made wine. Mothers issued an ultimatum to all bachelors warning them that unless they supported the women's ticket they could not court their daughters. The daughters supported their mothers.

All day Monday women escorted their husbands to the polls. Young women called at business places and took their beans to the polls. Stood on street corners and cheered for the women's ticket. Swains promised their best girls that they had voted for Mrs. McDermott and her ticket.

At sundown when the polls closed it appeared to be a clean sweep for the women.

But, to the astonishment of the entire town, seemingly, Mrs. McDermott was defeated, as were all the other women candidates. Some of the men, it seems, must have double-crossed their wives and sweethearts. There is a feeling that some of the "double-faced brutes," as they were called in many indignation meetings Monday night, had smilingly gone to the polls under charming escort, promising promises, but thinking of the beakers of home-made grape that may be purchased here for a price.

TO PROBE CHARGE
MADE BY FLYER
AGAINST VESSEL

Miami, Fla., March 27.—The charges of Pilot Robert Moore, sole survivor of the Miss Miami, that a fishing boat failed to heed his signals and passed the wrecked plane, leaving Moore and his five passengers to the mercy of the sea, will be investigated by the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce, it was said here today.

The navigation bureau today wired officials of the Miami airways corporation, owners of the plane, to forward at once all information concerning the incidents immediately preceding and following the plane's landing on the water.

TOO MANY LAWS
HURTING BUSINESS, ASSERTS WATKINS

Tells Wholesale Grocers That Effort Is Being Made to Cure All Ills by Legislation.

WILL ASK FOR BETTER
RATES ON RAILROADS

Meeting of Grocers and Pure Food Show at Auditorium Draw Big Crowd to Atlanta.

Business legislation is hindering business rather than helping, as it was planned to do, Attorney Edgar Watkins, of Atlanta, told the members of the Georgia Wholesale Grocers' association at their convention which opened Monday at the Piedmont hotel, in conjunction with the southern pure food show at the Auditorium.

Mr. Watkins spoke at the afternoon session on "The Legal Rights of Wholesale Grocers," and prefaced his remarks with a statement that such a subject could have found no place on a program a few years ago "when the grocers had rights." He asserted that America is experiencing a phase of effort to cure all business ills by legislation. This wave will finally recede as similar ones have done for centuries past, he said.

Acting on Mr. Watkins' suggestion that wholesale grocers exert an effort through their state organization to secure favorable intrastate class and commodity railroad rates, the association authorized appointment of a transportation committee. The committee will represent the grocers at the conference of transportation agents to be held soon in Atlanta. It is composed of James A. Metcalf, of Atlanta, secretary of the association; A. J. Long, of Macon, and E. S. Brandon, of Dublin.

Resolution Committee.
A resolutions committee was also appointed at the afternoon session, and includes R. W. Davis, of Atlanta; C. E. Callaway, of Albany, and C. R. Graham, of Bainbridge. This committee will report resolutions to the convention on page 2, column 3.

Vishnu to Hypnotize
Subject From WGM

The Constitution's radio service will be used Wednesday and Thursday for one of the most unique tests ever made in the history of wireless development. For the first time in the history of the wireless and for the first time in the history of hypnotism, a hypnotist will endeavor to exercise control over a subject over the wireless, telephone.

Vishnu, the famous hypnotist, who is now touring the southern states, will make the demonstration over The Constitution wireless system. Vishnu will stand in the station of The Constitution and his subject will appear on the stage at the Lyric theater at the second performance Wednesday night. Vishnu hopes to put his subject to sleep over the wireless. If he does the subject will remain asleep the remainder of the night and all the next day and will be awakened by Vishnu Thursday night at the second performance at the Lyric. The awakening will also be accomplished over the wireless.

From all records available this is

EFFORT TO CENSOR
U. S. BENCH TOLD
BY DRY LEAGUER

General Counsel for Anti-Saloon League Tells of Protest Letters Before House Committee.

ADVICE SENT HARDING ON CABINET CHOICE

Wide Ramifications of League's Activities Disclosed in Testimony of Wayne B. Wheeler.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, March 27.—Testimony of Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, before the house appropriations committee, made public today, revealed that the organization had protested the nomination "of half a dozen or more federal judges," Mr. Wheeler added that he had never asked for the transfer of a federal judge.

Asked by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, if he had ever recommended the appointment of a federal judge, Mr. Wheeler replied: "We have protested the appointment of some, and I think that when some have come up I have sent across letters stating that such and such men have made very effective, faithful public officials and if they were appointed to those places would doubtless make the same kind of a record. We did not go into a question of picking personalities."

Pressed as to the number of judgeship nominations which he had protested on behalf of the league, Mr. Wheeler replied that it was done in the case "of half a dozen or more federal judges."

Mr. Wheeler was questioned by Mr. Tinkham as to his dealings with government officials in his general desire to bring about rigid prohibition enforcement.

Cabinet Personnel.
"I now want to ask along these lines and I think it is legitimate," said Mr. Tinkham, "about your approach to public officials—whether you have approached them or not. Did you approach the president in relation to the appointment of a secretary of the treasury?" who should be secretary of the treasury?"

"I sent him a communication," I think," Mr. Wheeler replied, "asking that no one be placed in that position who was hostile to the enforcement of law, inasmuch as he would have something to do with it. We did not take up with him particularly the personnel or anything else as I recall it."

Mr. Wheeler said there were a number of good officials now enforcing the law who did not believe in prohibition. Touching on the question of the league's activity in politics, Mr. Tinkham introduced a statement signed by Mr. Wheeler and filed with the clerk of the house October 29, 1920, showing the expenditure of about $554. Some of it in the Minnesota district.

Continued on page 2, column 4.

New York Launches
Police War Against Smoking by Women

New York, March 27.—Effective Monday night, all women are prohibited from smoking in public places in New York city.

This new city ordinance, passed by the board of aldermen and signed by Mayor Hylan on March 21, failed to become known until patrons of gay cabarets, hotels and restaurants on Broadway, in Greenwich Village, and the Bronx, were astounded to have the news brought to them by details of uniformed policemen sent out to apprehend proprietors of the new law.

The ordinance declares it "unlawful for the proprietor of any hotel, lounge, restaurant, cabaret or other place of entertainment to permit women to smoke on their premises."

"That's the law in Zion City," moaned one flapper as the proprietor of a Greenwich Village tea dive asked her to smudge her newly lighted cigarette, "and it might have happened in Boston or somewhere. But in New York—good night!"

TARIFF AND BONUS
MAY CAUSE SPLIT
IN RANKS OF G. O. P.

Friction Between Republican Members of Two Houses Is Rapidly Growing Serious, Is Report.

HOUSE RAPS SENATE
FOR TARIFF DELAY

And Attitude of Senators Toward Bonus Bill of House Likewise Irritates Representatives.

Constitution Bureau, Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, March 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—Evidence of a growing friction between republican members of the house and senate have begun cropping out in renewed form lately.

The latest cause for such discontent finds its source in the slowness of the senate in acting upon the Fordney tariff bill, which passed the house some time ago, and which was one of the principal items in the republican platform upon which the present administration assumed its role of power.

House republicans are becoming very critical of the senate finance committee for delaying action on the tariff. They say it will cause congress to remain in session until the latter part of July and probably into August if there is to be a tariff law before the November election; and this election is what they fear, democrats say.

Delegations Protest Delay.
At a meeting of the Ohio delegation sometime ago, a committee was instructed to present the matter to the finance committee. Similar action was taken last Saturday when the Pennsylvania delegation, whose state is greatly affected by tariff measures, adopted a resolution protesting against the finance committee's delay.

Democratic members of the house, who opposed the major items included in the tariff and who are generally excluded from such meetings in which strictly party gossip holds the center of the stage, declare that the present discontent is the forerunner of a more distinct break between affiliated members of the two bodies which the back-bones may be unable to see. In substantiation of this, they point out the marked difference between house republicans and their party brethren of the senate arising out of the bonus bill, which received an overwhelming vote last week in the lower chamber. It is known that the senate will demand great modifications of the present bill, which due to the almost unanimous support received in its initial passage is not scheduled to promote better feelings, it is said.

Elections Drawing Near.
With the general election in view, members of the house, all of whom will have to go before the polls, had planned to reach their homes by the middle of June when a number of the primary campaigns begin. It now looks as though they will have to remain in Washington unless the senate can be persuaded to concur in a wireless.

Continued on page 6, column 5.

SENATE RATIFIES
PACT SUPPLEMENT
WITH RESERVATION

Domestic Questions Not in Treaty Scope, Nor Does U. S. Approve Pacific Mandates.

NAVAL DISARMAMENT TREATY UP TUESDAY

Senator Lodge Is Criticized for Uncertainty of Procedure During Day of Confused Debate.

BY JOHN GLEISSNER.

United News Staff Correspondent. Washington, March 27.—America's approval of the four-power Pacific treaty is now complete. Ratification of the pact by Britain, France and Japan will make it operative.

The senate completed its deliberations and gave complete and final assent late Monday when it ratified the supplemental treaty, which exempts the Japanese homeland from the scope of the treaty proper, to which was attached the declaration of the delegations.

Treaty opponents fought to the last, and contested every move of the administration forces, led by Senator Lodge. They yielded only when it was apparent further opposition would be useless, and only when they had wrung a concession from Lodge.

Congressmen Granted.
This concession was that the senate should approve the declaration of the delegations, which stipulates that purely domestic questions shall not be brought before the conference of the powers, and that the treaty shall not be construed as approval by this country of the mandate arrangements in the Pacific.

At first Lodge contended that the ratification required no senatorial sanction, but he changed his position with a storm of protest arose. After a number of plans had been advanced, the declaration, on motion of Lodge, was finally attached as a reservation to the supplemental treaty.

Western and southern senators gained their point by bringing forward the bugaboo of Japanese immigration and alien land laws. It should be made clear beyond any doubt, they insisted, that these matters should not be made the subject of international discussion.

Final Vote Unanimous.
The final vote on the supplemental treaty, after the reservation was attached, was unanimous—74 to 0.

Continued on page 6, column 4.

NORCROSS NAMED ON LABOR BOARD

Atlanta Ready to Do Her Part in Formation of Committee to Test Labor Efficiency.

Paul H. Norcross, well-known consulting engineer of Atlanta, and member of the firm of Norcross & Keis, will represent Atlanta on the committee of five suggested recently by Roger W. Babson, prominent statistical expert, to gauge the efficiency of labor in various parts of the United States. At a meeting of the executive board of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce at noon Monday, Mr. Norcross was selected for the place.

He will form a committee of Atlantans who are thoroughly familiar with the labor situation to aid him in compiling the statistics. This is in line with the plan set out by Mr. Babson, at a meeting of the President's club, at which the executive board of the chamber of commerce was present Friday night.

Continued on page 3, column 5.

RATHER BE HANGED
THAN SERVE TERM,
ASSAILANT SHOUTS

Fayetteville Courtroom Thrown Into Wild Disorder as Genus Cofield Attacks His Nephew.

SENTENCE ON BOTH HAD JUST BEEN PASSED

Through Long Night Physicians Strive to Save Young Cofield's Life, But Lose Hope.

Fayetteville, Ga., March 28.—(Special.)—After being convicted for burglary and sentenced in open courtroom here late Monday afternoon, Genus Cofield sprang suddenly upon Weyman Cofield, his nephew, whose sensational confession had convicted him, plunging a dagger deep into his chest. Through the long night, the wounded man hovered between life and death and early this morning physicians declared he could not recover. Judge William E. H. Seary had just sentenced each of the men to serve terms ranging from 3 to 5 years in the state penitentiary. Weyman Cofield took his seat, his uncle remaining standing with eyes fixed on the judge.

"I'd rather hang than serve 5 years in the penitentiary," he shouted.

Plunges Dagger.
Without another word, he took his seat, and almost in the same moment whipped a long dagger from his coat. He leaped suddenly over a prisoner between him and his nephew, striking once. The dagger inflicted a deep, ragged wound over the heart.

Young Cofield fell forward in his seat, from which he had not had time to rise. A. O. Blalock, former internal revenue collector and now candidate for commissioner of agriculture, who was seated in an adjoining chair, caught him in his arms.

A blow on the head, delivered by Sheriff Tom Kerlin, stunned the assailant. A deputy sheriff and others seized and disarmed him. The courtroom was in wild disorder with Judge Seary and deputies ordering every one to be seated.

First Aid Administered.

Within a few moments order was restored, and physicians present in the courtroom rushed Weyman Cofield to another room, where he was given first aid treatment. He had lost much blood, however, and no hope was expressed for his recovery.

Deputies carried the elder Cofield to the jail, where he was placed under heavy guard. He made no statement as to why he stabbed his nephew, but authorities attributed the attack to revenge because Weyman Cofield had confessed and convicted him.

The two Cofields and several other men were implicated in the burglarizing of Fife Mercantile company and Kitchens Mercantile company here on October 29, 1921. Both were arrested two days later with other suspects and placed in jail.

Was Whipped.

On the stand this afternoon young Cofield declared that on the day before his commitment trial last year, his uncle and the other suspects had severely whipped him while in jail and threatened him unless he testified that he alone was responsible for the two robberies.

He was promised tobacco, other gifts and a lawyer to defend him, young Cofield testified, if he took the blame for the crime. When he was arrested, he said, he was

The Weather
CLOUDY.

Washington—Forecast:

Georgia: Cloudy to partly cloudy Tuesday; Wednesday unsettled, probably showers, mild temperature.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature	75
Lowest temperature	69
Mean temperature	72
Normal temperature	64
Rainfall in past 24 hours, inches	.29
Excess since 1st of month, inches	8.83
Excess since January 1, inches	5.45
T. m. Noon, T. p. m.
Dry bulb	69 69
Wet bulb	60 65
Relat. humidity	100 82

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

Station	Temp.	Wind	Bar.
Atlanta, Ga.	70	75	30.00
Birmingham, Ala.	75	74	30.00
Chicago, Ill.	42	42	30.02
Jacksonville, Fla.	70	80	30.00
N. Orleans, La.	70	76	30.00
New York, N. Y.	58	69	30.00
San Fran., Calif.	52	62	30.00
St. Louis, Mo.	52	62	30.00
Washington, D. C.	64	68	30.00

G. F. von DEMME, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

raigned at his preliminary hearing, young Coffield admitted his guilt and was bound over to the superior court, he said.

While he was awaiting trial, the witness continued, he decided to turn state's evidence. Genus Coffield and another man stood guard while he robbed the stores, young Coffield said. When the jury returned a verdict

"Built Like a Skyscraper"

Jump into the open drawer. Jump hard! You can't harm it. The drawer will still "coast" in or out at a touch afterward.

SHAW-WALKER STEEL LETTER FILES

BUILT like a skyscraper—with skyscraper uprights, cross-pieces, girders, etc., of channel steel.

Even go skyscrapers one better, because electric welded into one solid piece. No nuts—no bolts—no rivets—no rods—no screws.

Drawers silent and speedy. Will run 100 years without repair or attention.

Guaranteed the best file you ever used—or your money back.

HORNE DESK & FIXTURE CO.
W. A. HORNE President
NEWTON C. WING Sec'y and Treas.
Desks, Chairs and Commercial Furniture, Card and Filing Systems, Filing Devices in Wood and Steel, Steel Safes, Lockers and Sectional Office Partitions.
89 NORTH PRYOR STREET ATLANTA

SPECIAL FREE OFFER

For a limited time, all who apply will be treated FREE (Laboratory charges for material used excepted). We are making this special free offer at a time when we know it will benefit many sick people.

Operation Not Needed

A lady was told by a nose and throat specialist that she must have an operation on her throat. She took about a dozen Auto-Blood treatments and then called again on the throat specialist. After a thorough examination, he told her that the operation he had proposed was not needed.

Hundreds have been restored to health with Auto-Blood Therapy. What it has done for others it can do for you. Call at Electric Medical Specialists, Blood Serum Experts, 130-A Peachtree, opposite Chandler Bldg. Hours 10 a. m. to 6 p. m. Sundays, 11 to 1.

TOO MANY LAWS HURT BUSINESS

Continued from first page.

association at its final session Tuesday afternoon when officers will be elected and other business transacted. Attendance at the pure food show, which is an annual event held under the auspices of the Atlanta Retail Food Dealers' association, reached a high mark on the first day. The doors opened at 10 o'clock and between 10 and 11 o'clock Monday night hundreds of visitors attended.

Music is being furnished almost continually by the jazz orchestra. In the evening free dancing will be enjoyed by visitors in Taft hall. The orchestra is featuring its saxophone sextette.

Entertainment Offered.

Another feature of the entertainment program is the act of "Daredevil Raymond," an athlete said to be a product of this city.

His stunt consists of a sensational release from a straight-jacket while suspended by his feet from a rope high above the crowd.

"Daredevil Raymond" will appear in the pure food show parade which will make its way through the main business streets Tuesday morning. All available space in the main auditorium has been converted into booths. Various kinds of food products are being displayed by representatives of the country's foremost manufacturers. Samples are being liberally distributed.

The exposition is open to the public. An admission charge of 10 cents is being made.

Guests at Theater.

The wholesale grocers and guests of the Atlanta Wholesale Grocers' association Monday afternoon at a theater party at the Howard theater. They will be entertained with a luncheon at the Ansley hotel at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon as the guests of the Atlanta Milling company. About one hundred members of the association were in attendance at the opening session and Secretary Metcalf stated that others were to arrive during last night.

R. K. Rambo, of the John Silvey company of Atlanta, and former president of the Southern Wholesale Dry Goods association, will speak Tuesday on "The Economic Position of the Wholesale Grocer in the Chain of Distribution." Another important address will be made by J. H. McLaughlin, president of the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, whose topic will be "Some Sound Business Principles for the Wholesale Grocer."

The program for the opening session Monday included an address by Lloyd W. Skinner, president of the Skinner Manufacturing company, of Omaha, on "What Co-operation Ought to Mean," and reports from various officers and committees.

The convention was called to order by President R. W. Warden. Addresses were made by East President E. M. Hudson and R. I. Barge, of the local association. President Wallace made a response.

NEGLIGENCE CHARGED TO GRADY HOSPITAL
Continued from first page.

lege to open the session with their testimony, since the conduct of the hospital had been attacked. In W. Elkin, dean of the Medical School of Emory, was the first witness examined. He said he had been connected with the hospital ever since it was built.

"Are you prepared to state whether its management is efficient or inefficient?" asked Mr. Johnston.

"I am more familiar with the negro division," answered Dr. Elkin. "It is run by its satisfaction."

Asked to state something of the history and improvements of the hospital Dr. Elkin said it had been rated by the American College of Surgeons and the American Medical association as a class "A" institution, which is the highest standard of rating a hospital attains.

Dr. Fischer on Stand.

Dr. L. C. Fischer, of the Davis-Fischer sanitarium, was the next witness. Dr. Fischer scored the investigation. "I want to say that these investigations, from a standpoint of service to the public, are a farce," he declared. "They are an imposition on your finance committee and your taxpayers."

"I can't see why a controversy between telephone operators is an excuse to bring this before a committee of council. I feel that Grady is one of the greatest assets of Atlanta. It gives service to the poor freely, gratuitously. It stands out among the foremost institutions of the country. I feel it is the height of folly to bring up this institution for investigation for minor excuses."

"Mr. Johnston's is a political institution, and he has to answer to this boss on that basis. You have a capable man at the head of Grady. Give him authority and then hold him responsible."

Charges "Dirty Deal."

As he finished C. A. Schultz was on his feet. "He was called here to testify and he's made a speech," Schultz declared. "I'll leave it to any man. I was handed the dirtiest deal at Grady hospital that was ever handed to a man in the city of Atlanta."

Dr. Horace Grant, a spectator, arose and securing permission to question Dr. Fischer, asked him if a council committee wasn't the proper place for the public to bring its complaints about Grady.

Dr. Fischer said the question would require a lengthy reply, and the committee moved to go on to the next witness. This was Dr. H. R. Donaldson, chairman of the committee on medical matters at Grady. He asserted that the hospital operates in an efficient manner.

Taking up cross-examination, Attorney Hutchinson inquired: "Would you call it efficiency when men get their leg broken and is laid out in a table at the hospital for hours without attention?"

"There are a good many things about that," replied Dr. Donaldson. "If he wasn't in condition for the operation it would have been proper."

"Would you consider it efficiency where a family was notified that if they wanted to see their relative alive they would have to come at age, and when they got there they found him all right?"

"That might be efficiency plus," answered the doctor. "He might have had a sinking spell and rallied."

Doctors on Stand.

Dr. Donaldson was followed by Dr. G. W. Quillian, president of the medical board of the white unit at Grady; Dr. Leroy Calhoun, visiting surgeon from the city at large; Dr. E. C. Thrash, Dr. Marion Benson, Dr. W. E. Barber, Dr. Frank Eckridge, Dr. T. G. Davis and Dr. J. L. Campbell, all visiting physicians or surgeons on the staff of the institution, who asserted it is well conducted.

Edmund Martin, former president of the Grady board of trustees, praised the management of the institution, and declared that he believed Superintendent Johnston would be the last man in the world to impose negligence on suffering humanity.

Another witness to give evidence highly favorable to Grady's operation was Dr. N. M. Gwynn, formerly medical superintendent of the Baltimore hospital, now connected with Grady.

W. H. Jones, one of the witnesses armed with charges against the hospital, said that in 1920 his 12-year-old son was run over by an automobile, carried to Grady and an hour later sent home with his wounds still unbandaged.

It was brought out by Mr. Johnston that when his attention was called to the incident he went to the boy's home to have him return to the hospital, but his parents wouldn't allow it.

RUFUS T. DORSEY DIES

Child Was Son of Mr. and Mrs. Cam Dorsey.

Rufus T. Dorsey, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cam D. Dorsey, died Monday night at the residence on Wesley avenue.

The child, who was a nephew of former Governor Hugh M. Dorsey and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Adams, of Savannah, died after an illness of only ten days.

The child is survived by his parents and two brothers, Samuel Adams Dorsey and Cam D. Dorsey, Jr. Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the residence, Dr. S. G. Wasson, pastor of St. Mark's Methodist church, in charge. Burial will be in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son, in charge.

J. F. Martin to Face Court for Alleged Fake Stock Scheme

J. F. Martin, who was arrested Saturday on a warrant sworn out in municipal court charging cheating and swindling, will be given a preliminary hearing before Judge T. O. Hathcock in municipal court Tuesday.

Martin is charged with swindling G. T. Glasco, of 1111 Hurt building, out of $200 by telling him that he was organizing the "British Chemical company," which was a part of a scheme by Martin to fleece people out of money. Glasco charges that he paid $200 for stock which he never received and that he became suspicious Saturday and swore out the warrant in municipal court.

After Martin has been tried, his wife will be given a hearing on a charge of pointing a pistol at Mrs. J. R. Hölley, her landlady. She is under $800 bond.

WORLD'S FAIR QUARTET WILL SING FOR LIONS

At the Lions club's regular weekly luncheon at the Piedmont hotel today at 1 o'clock, a number of entertaining features will be introduced by the quartette in charge.

Victor Todd, chairman of the fellowship committee, has a unique plan of introducing members to the club which he will offer.

Julian Boehm, president of the Civitan club, will be a guest and make a short talk.

A strong musical feature will be the appearance of the "World's Fair Quartet," a local singing organization, sponsored by the World's Fair Musical Association.

It is declared to have a number of excellent voices, and the members of the Lions club are expecting a rare treat.

EFFORT TO CENSOR U. S. BENCH TOLD

Continued from first page.

represented by Chairman Volstead, of the house judiciary committee, author of the Volstead law.

Protested Report.

An accompanying statement to the clerk of the house, signed by Mr. Wheeler, was presented by Mr. Tinkens, in which Mr. Wheeler, as treasurer of the campaign committee of the league, declared that "we respectfully protest any obligation on the part of the Anti-Saloon League of America to file this report under the elections law as the activities of the league are educational, scientific, charitable, rather than political, as intended by the law." It added: "We file this report, therefore, under protest covering those contributions and expenses only in connection with the national organization in the election of congressmen, as indicated in the report."

Mr. Wheeler said there was "an honest difference of opinion" as to whether the act referred to such organizations as the league. "The fact that there might be some doubt with reference to it, is the reason why I have asked our committee to file these reports; while we are the only organization that does it, I find no criticism in the report."

TO RECUPERATE AFTER COLDS OR THE FLU

To Speedily Recover From the After-Effects of Colds or Flu, and Avoid Serious Complications, Take Creomulsion, an Emulsified Creosote That is Pleasant to Take and Prompt in Action.

Creomulsion Clears Out the Bronchial Tubes, Increases Appetite and Body Weight and Strengthens the Lungs.

FINE FOR BUILDING UP THE SYSTEM AFTER COLDS OR FLU

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germs that lead to consumption.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, catarrhal bronchitis and other forms of throat and lung diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist: Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga., adv.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICARS

icism of the many liquor organizations that are doing the same thing for not filling a report."

While Mr. Wheeler was before the committee a question relating to modification of the Volstead law bobbed up.

Oath of Congressmen.

Chairman Husted said he had noticed statements in league literature to the effect that "congressmen who voted for any liberalization of the Volstead act were violating their oath of office."

"That would depend on to what extent the liberalization would be," said Mr. Wheeler. "If the court would take judicial notice of whether any such liquor was intoxicating liquor, then you get up to that realm where I would say there was a justification for it. There might not be if there was a liberalization that would not defeat the enforcement of the act."

"What I wanted to ask you is this," Mr. Husted said, "whether you consider that any congressman would be violating his oath of office, his oath to support the constitution, if he voted for a provision liberalizing the Volstead act, which in his honest, conscientious opinion will better promote the cause of real temperance in the country than the act as it stands at the present time?"

"I would answer that question 'no' on general principles," said Mr. Wheeler, "and yet if that man would say 'I am in favor of 15 per cent wine and 15 per cent beer,' I would say that while he might be absolutely honest in his opinion, yet he was so clearly wrong that he would be an unsafe member of congress."

IVY

You Are as Close to Us as Your Phone.

Simply call Ivy 13 for your drug store needs. We deliver promptly anywhere in the city. Prescriptions called for and delivered in great haste.

Service Is a Habit at MUNN'S
PHONE IVY 13
Broad at Walton Street

PAIN AGES YOU—
Sloan's for rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, sprains, strains, weak backs, stiff joints.

Sloan's Liniment

Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment

NORCROSS NAMED TO LABOR BOARD

Continued from first page.

mittee, was considered by Mr. Foote as a signal tribute to the city's prominence in commercial and industrial affairs of the nation.

The purpose is to gather statistics concerning the relative efficiency of labor in different sections of the country. It is thought that in this way it will be found that southern labor is just as competent as that of other parts of the United States. From the findings of the committee of five manufacturers will be able to locate in the most desirable sections.

It is said that the national committee will probably work in conjunction with the labor board in Washington, D. C. Although nothing very definite about the work of the committee has been given out as yet, it is indicated that certain tests will be provided by Mr. Ebbesen, which will accurately gauge the quality of labor.

How to Acquire A Clear Radiant Complexion In 14 Days

It seems almost impossible that pimples, blackheads, boils, etc., can be made to completely disappear within as short a time as 14 days.

Yet thousands of IRONIZED YEAST users have proved to their complete satisfaction that it is not only easy to quickly acquire a clear, fresh complexion—but at the same time to build up weight, energy and general health to really an astonishing degree.

Surprisingly Quick Results

The reason IRONIZED YEAST brings such remarkable results is because it embodies a new scientific process which enables yeast to bring its great benefits often in just half the usual time. Experiments prove that while yeast alone is good, it is not enough, in itself, to bring 100 per cent results. For while yeast contains certain vital elements which are essential to health, it is found that some other agent is needed to help convert these wonderful elements into health, strength and energy.

IRONIZED YEAST Tablets

THE ONLY YEAST THAT IS GENUINELY IRONIZED

WARNING—IRONIZED YEAST is entirely different from anything on the market. Do not confuse it with ordinary "vitamin" tablets, which in most cases are merely plain, inefficient mixtures of yeast and iron. IRONIZED YEAST is the only yeast which is treated through the remarkable process of ironization—the process which enables yeast to bring its splendid results just twice as quickly. Insist upon it always—for nothing else can be like it. Go to your druggist and get IRONIZED YEAST today. $1.00 a package.

Note:—Full Size Packages of IRONIZED YEAST Are Sold at All Drug Stores

Free Trial Coupon

The Ironized Yeast Co.
Atlanta, Ga., Dept. 136
Please send me the famous THREE-DAY FREE TRIAL TREATMENT of Ironized Yeast.
Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____
Only One Trial Package to a Family

A Home that is Cooler in Summer and Warmer in Winter

WHEN one considers the great difference in average temperatures between our most northern and southern States, the nation-wide use of LUMBER for home-building must be based on very solid reasons.

Indeed, the more the science of building is studied—the more confirmation one finds for the sound commonsense which leads to the use of lumber in nine out of ten homes in America today.

Because standard lumber construction is resistant to heat transmission from within in winter and from without in summer. It is equal to twelve inches of brick, lathed and plastered, and practically equivalent to thirty-six inches of solid concrete or sixteen inches of hollow tile.

It keeps dampness out. Standard lumber construction provides maximum comfort at minimum cost.

Build of Lumber—Accept No Substitute.
NATIONAL LUMBER MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

Harris Trust Building
Chicago

International Building
Washington, D. C.

Cooler in summer, warmer in winter, a lumber-built home costs, as your architect will tell you, less than one of any other material.

THE CONSTITUTION

The Standard Southern Newspaper.
Published Daily, Sunday, Tri-Weekly.
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager.
Clark Howell, Jr., Asst. Gen. Manager.
Directors: Clark Howell, Albert Howell, Jr., S. S. Black, M. W. Gray, Clark Howell, Jr.

Entered at the postoffice at Atlanta as second-class matter.
Postoffice No. 1000.
ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 28, 1922.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily and Tri-Weekly, $10.00 a year in advance.
Sunday only, $2.00 a year in advance.
Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

J. B. HOLLADAY, Constitution Building, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.
Telephone Main 8000.

The Constitution Building is at the Hamilton Hotel, James A. Holladay, owner.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York City by J. B. Holladay, 150 Broadway, and by J. B. Holladay, 150 Broadway, and by J. B. Holladay, 150 Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town carriers, dealers or agents.

Member of the Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not credited to it in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

TO PREVENT STRIKES.

Secretary of Labor Davis has worked out a plan for the prevention of industrial warfare between employer and employee, which, though it may not be perfect, at least commends itself to thoughtful consideration.

Briefly, his plan is for the government to increase the size and scope of the existing division of conciliation of the department of labor by the inclusion of a group of fifteen or twenty experts, each representing one of the basic industries of the country, and to be designated as "key men in industry," whose official duty in part would be to keep the country in formed as to all controversial issues involved in industrial disputes.

The plan is based upon the theory, first, that in every dispute between capital and labor the public is fundamentally as vitally concerned as is either of the other two groups; also, that in the long run major industrial controversies are settled, as a rule, not by the physical strength of either group of disputants, but by public opinion.

In the event that public opinion is based upon an erroneous conclusion, due to a lack of information on the part of the public, injustice results, and it is inevitable that the issues must be fought out again at some future time.

Obviously, therefore, in order that all disputes between employer and employee may be adjusted upon the basis of absolute fairness and justice, it is necessary that the public be given access to the truth regarding all issues involved; and, as the secretary of labor views the matter, "to gain this end we shall need a special conciliator in each of the fifteen or twenty major industries" whose main business it would be to keep the public posted on all elements entering into the relationship between the industry and the capital invested in it and the labor employed by it.

"In each instance," says Mr. Davis, "this 'key man'—

"must have technical knowledge as a matter of course. He must have a personal authority of his own, to give weight to his judgments and command respect. He must know his particular industry down to the last bolt and nut. He must be familiar with every mechanical process employed. He must know precisely what is to be expected from every employee in that industry, at every step of manufacture.

"For a proper understanding and sympathy, he must know the business end of his industry, and he must also have knowledge of and understanding for the workers' organization."

The secretary of labor believes that the judgments passed by a man of this equipment of training and character "will be so searching and so transparently fair" that not only will both sides "place implicit confidence in his decisions and welcome him as the ready way out of painful and costly differences," but the public will rely upon the information furnished by him and from his conclusions accordingly.

He points out also that in bringing about settlements of labor disputes by this process "there need be no hint whatsoever of government interference," and he goes on to say—

"Our present conciliators have no authority by law to do more than step in by invitation of the parties in any dispute. These specialists would have no more authority to sway. It is only that with their especially valuable training they would be more effective, and consequently more wanted and useful."

The department of labor has asked congress to appropriate the funds necessary to the recruiting of these "key men" and to put the plan in operation.

The least that can be said of the plan is that it involves a highly interesting experiment, and is well worth trying out.

NOISY BUT HARMLESS.

In Tokio, according to press dispatches, the receipt of news that the senate had ratified the four-power treaty was the occasion for popular rejoicing and a manifestation of genuine approval, which fact is itself highly gratifying to all peace-loving people on this side of the Pacific.

But to the jingo element, especially to the senate irreconcilables under the leadership of Borah and Johnson, it must be disappointing.

In a last desperate effort to prevent ratification of the treaty, Senator Borah made a reckless charge, based upon no real substance of fact, that the United States and Great Britain had entered into a secret alliance against the interests of Japan, and in doing that, he not only sought to jeopardize success of the treaty under consideration, together with the rest of the work of the Washington disarmament conference, but took a course intended to excite Japanese suspicion and to arouse Japanese enmity toward this country.

But, fortunately, nothing came of it; for the treaty was ratified, and Japan joins America in the rejoicing.

In Japan, it seems, as here, the jingoistic attitude of the senate "hell-benters" is considered, for what it is worth, and, as the Chicago News expresses it, "Senator Borah and his fellow irreconcilables have had their measure taken internationally as well as nationally; consequently they are harmless, though noisy, when they seek to deprive the world of the benefits that must accrue from the treaties framed by the delegates to the Washington conference."

As for Japan, its good will and good faith are attested by the fact that long before success of the Pacific four-power treaty was assured in the senate that government had taken steps to reduce the Japanese navy in conformity with the conference agreement.

The statesmen and the rank and file of well-informed citizens of Japan and of other countries know, as the American people know, that the mouthing, and the ill-considered and demagogic utterances of our senate irreconcilables, are for political effect only, and representative of nothing by which to appraise American sentiment.

HELP MOVE THINGS.

The thrift that saves for wise spending is the kind from which the country at large gets the most benefit.

It helps to keep money in general circulation, for the dollars that work for the individual are also working for the welfare of the whole community.

And now that business is really on the up-grade, and commercial prospects are brightening, the right thing to do is to put the idle dollars to work in the right way.

And this was never better expressed than in the following editorial paragraph from the New York Evening Mail—

"Buy what you are sure to need that others may sell. What others sell must be manufactured. They who manufacture must distribute wages. And they who earn wages will spend them. Instead of stopping the wheel of commerce, let it go. Of revolutions there is, after all, only one that brings happiness to everybody, and that is when the world as a whole revolves the right way. Let it so revolve. Let the nation be once more a going concern."

And the further optimistic word is expressed in the statement that "they whose duty it is to scan the horizon see the busy time coming," with plenty of customers at the counters.

Indeed, it is not only "coming," but has already made itself felt in many reviving branches of industry.

There is an opportunity for every one to help, in making business feel "at home" by working for and with it.

Help to keep things moving!

Think of an old back number, like Winter, hanging around to give Spring instructions as to housekeeping.

Edison is asking more questions. He isn't at all discouraged by the failure to answer his former ones.

Revolving spring not only repeats the Lazarus miracle, but the Jonah fish story.

Of course Mexico is getting good. She hasn't had a front page crisis in a long while.

A writer speaks of "substitutes for common sense." But "they ain't no such animals."

"Our present conciliators have no authority by law to do more

Just From Georgia

BY FRANK L. STANTON

Light in Night.
Black winds
across the meadows, and the night
No stars shine
from the blue;
But over all the unforgotten light
In the dear eyes of you.

In what strange path ways
my footstep
I may not dream or know;
Only this joy comes in the dark to me—
That I have loved you so!

It was not much to love—O heart of mine,
All that was pure and bright—
Robes of red wrath and crimson to resign
For raiment that is white.

It was not much to yield earth's gold and dross
For realms with joy replete;
And, in the darkness, clinging to a cross,
Find mercy at your feet.

So, night is never night when the sweet thought
Of Love is with us still;
If to Love's cross our scorched, and hearts are brought,
Lo! Love is with us still.

O winds across the meadows and the night!
O stars that leave the blue!
There shines, sweetheart, the unforgotten light
In the dear eyes of you.

How Uncle John Views It.
Writing in The Excelsior Springs Standard, of well-wangled ideas, "Uncle John" says:

"If human folks would buy themselves an extra pair of shoes, and go around on hands and feet, like cows and kangaroos—an' lay their drink like dogs and cats—an' live on grain diet—they'd use us the healthiest way—but I shan't try it!"

"The fool with nothin' else to do—must get off somethin' stupid—But all the geese that ever flew can't make me a quaddroo! Of course the cow—is healthier, and don't get indigestion, but the idiot that would marry one defies the racial question!"

"Suppose the Nut could have his way—and make us walk like horses—And then—it's healthier to bray—sweet songs is double crosses! Get down—ye feather tribes—get down! All fours for every critter! Go on, ye addle pated clown—but blame it—I'm a quitter!"

He Plays Safe.
(The Billville Post.)
I hear the birds of springtime call—
Their music I'm allowin'.
But if I let 'em sing it all
My chances would be mighty small—
I'd have to go to plowin'.

An' that's 'jess' why I sing an' sing
When springtime weather's bright—
I'd rather warble of the spring
Than make the mule's ear ring an' ring.
With thunder an' with lightning.

The Home-Town Philosopher.
(From The Greensboro Herald-Journal.)
We know a man who calls his mule "home boy" because it has such an awful kick.

We reckon when a woman preacher marries a couple she kisses the groom.

Some men just won't boost home products. Some of 'em even marry an out-of-town girl.

We learn the inventor of the safety razor made two million dollars. One safety razor in time is worth two million dollars more.

Yes, Maria, there are some dumb-bells in this world, but there are even dumber who possess such a rich and fertile brain that they have to pay income tax on it.

Clean Sweep.
He thinks the world knows not his worth—
Keeps up the self-praise tune:
If God had granted him the earth
He'd want it all in a moon.

And then—for further peace or pleasure,
He'd want the stars, to bring the measure.

How to Place Him.
(From The DeKalb Herald.)
The man who doesn't say "attainable" and "hadn't ought" is almost an educated man. In fact, a literary man with a great deal of finish.

Word From Br'er Williams.
Some folks runs fer office kase dey needs de exercise. An' dat's bout all some of 'em gits out of it.

THANKS EXPRESSED BY JEWISH RELIEF

Arthur J. Harris, city chairman for the American Jewish relief committee, Monday, in a letter to The Constitution, expressed gratitude of the committee for co-operation extended in the recent campaign. Mr. Harris' letter follows:

"Editor Constitution: The local and national committee of the American Jewish relief have asked me to express their deep appreciation of your fine co-operation with them in the recent campaign in this city to raise funds for the relief of thousands of victims of war and famine in the regions of eastern and central Europe.

"They have particularly requested that I thank you for the splendid play you have given the news stories about the campaign and especially for the large number of front page stories that The Constitution so kindly printed for us."

"I do this most gladly, for I realize that the splendid response made in the campaign was due in large measure to this space that you so freely gave us to present the purpose and progress of our appeal.

"I know that The Constitution is constantly asked to print a large number of things, and since I realize the burden that such campaigns are placed upon you and your staff, I can not be ungrateful of the debt we owe you for your co-operation with us in this cause, and it gives me great pleasure to express to you our heartfelt gratitude.

"Very sincerely yours,
"ARTHUR J. HARRIS, City Chairman."

'Twas Fifty Years Ago, My Lads

Resurrected from the 1872 Files of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION
BY FUZZY WOODRUFF

And Doubtless Will Be Well Patronized.
"The jail and station house, located on Pryor street, is now being pushed forward, and soon another substantial looking building will be finished on that growing street."

When It Was Pretty Good to Be a Georgian.
"The extension of the street railway line on Marietta street will be completed today as far as Broad street."

Before the Passage of Nineteenth Amendment.
"Editors Constitution—I was accompanied by a young gentleman to see Januscheck at DeGue's Opera house on Wednesday night, and twice during the evening I asked him to come alone. Once when the alarm of fire was heard, and then between the acts. Do you regard this as a breach of etiquette?"

"The above question has been asked us, and the only reply is that it is not a breach of etiquette, but of the attention and protection due a lady under the charge of a gentleman. It is a disrespectful act toward a lady, and should not be tolerated by her. It is not only reprehensible apart from etiquette, but a lady is liable to be insulted in the absence of her escort; and even the probability of an accident or panic occurring, which would require his immediate care of one lady under his charge. In fact, it is a breach of decorum, and neglect of a lady should not be submitted to."

Atlanta's Realty Boom Hereby Explained.
"Great real estate sale and goody dinner, with excellent drinks and fine cigars, next Wednesday morning. Special attention called to the advertisement of Bell & Goldsmith, real estate agents."

Well, There Are Worse Things Than Movies.
"Madame Januscheck having left the city, will meet every Wednesday at the closed Sunday evening. A class of 40 converts was received into the church by the pastor."

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

BITS OF NEW YORK LIFE

BY O. C. MINTYRE

New York, March 27.—Millionaire's Row is about the only spot left in New York where the very rich are herded into one district. It extends on the avenue from Sixty-second to Ninetieth street, and the occupant of every house is said to be in the million-dollar class.

Not until the morning sun has bathed Fifth avenue in its golden aureole and the glittering broughams and victorias sweep southward with their loads of shoppers do the big mansions along the Bow show signs of life.

In early hours they appear to represent nothing save a certain wealth and dreariness—an overtone of desolation against the workaday world. The servants dot into little groups around the grilles of entrances. Cautious are tightly drawn. Morning papers lie on the doorsteps unread.

The first to appear are the pattering hoofs of a gallop on the bridge path in Central park, opposite or for a brisk walk down the avenue. There is an expression of bored nonchalance, a superciliousness born of adolescence.

They seem curiously detached from the stirring crowds that move and burn about like living pitch. Cradled in luxury, they arrive at manhood with apparently nothing to occupy their attention but a wisp of a mustache.

The young girls are different. They are vibrant with health—exotic young things who trill to life and myriads of things that to the rest of the world are dead. They are full of life and dash. They wave at passing friends and babble with enthusiasm.

They are full of life and dash. They wave at passing friends and babble with enthusiasm. They are full of life and dash. They wave at passing friends and babble with enthusiasm.

A young girl with a baby stare and pouring lips has confessed that she had been for a year in the best New York hotels without a cent of expense—save for a few tips to maids and bellboys. When her bill got too large, an accounting was demanded, she sought the manager and turned on the tears. She was a bride. She came to New York to meet her husband, and he had not arrived. She feared she was deserted. In every case she was told to try to pay the bill as soon as possible.

A young girl with a baby stare and pouring lips has confessed that she had been for a year in the best New York hotels without a cent of expense—save for a few tips to maids and bellboys. When her bill got too large, an accounting was demanded, she sought the manager and turned on the tears. She was a bride. She came to New York to meet her husband, and he had not arrived. She feared she was deserted. In every case she was told to try to pay the bill as soon as possible.

A young girl with a baby stare and pouring lips has confessed that she had been for a year in the best New York hotels without a cent of expense—save for a few tips to maids and bellboys. When her bill got too large, an accounting was demanded, she sought the manager and turned on the tears. She was a bride. She came to New York to meet her husband, and he had not arrived. She feared she was deserted. In every case she was told to try to pay the bill as soon as possible.

A young girl with a baby stare and pouring lips has confessed that she had been for a year in the best New York hotels without a cent of expense—save for a few tips to maids and bellboys. When her bill got too large, an accounting was demanded, she sought the manager and turned on the tears. She was a bride. She came to New York to meet her husband, and he had not arrived. She feared she was deserted. In every case she was told to try to pay the bill as soon as possible.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

EAT 'EM RAW.
Cooking, at least in the ordinary way, impairs the vitamin content of food which contains vitamins in the raw state.

Even the comparatively mild degree of heat (about 140 degrees Fahrenheit for 20 to 30 minutes) used in pasteurizing milk certainly diminishes the vitamin content of the milk.

Cooking food which is naturally acid, such as tomato, diminishes the vitamin value but little; cannot to be sure, but it does reduce the vitamin content of the food.

Cooking food with an alkali, as, for instance, adding soda to water, greatly impairs the vitamin value, and this practice of some cooks should be stopped, not only for this reason but also because it robs us of more of the mineral elements of such foods as potatoes.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

Raw potatoes contain the fat soluble factor A (which prevents rickets) and the water soluble factor B (which prevents beriberi) and the antiscorbutic factor C (prevents scurvy). Cooked potatoes contain only the last mentioned vitamin and darn little of that. This is no argument in favor of raw potatoes in the diet of any American or Canadian family; but when children or others crave raw potatoes they should have them.

CENTENARY MOVEMENT

SUCCESS IS REPORTED
Prayer Meetings
Now Being Held
In Many Churches

Response on the part of the various Methodist churches of Atlanta in supporting the centenary movement has exceeded expectations in several sections. It was announced Monday at the weekly meeting of ministers in Wesley Memorial church.

The Druid Hills Methodist church raised $1,300 Sunday, according to the Rev. A. M. Pickett, pastor. The First Methodist church of Decatur raised the sum of $1,022.60, according to the report of the Rev. G. M. Eakes.

"The Spiritual Preparation of a Revival" was the subject of Dr. W. A. Sheldon, of Emory university, who addressed the assembly. Dr. Sheldon's talk was directed towards the forthcoming city-wide revival, which begins in Atlanta April 2. Dr. W. H. LeBarde presided.

Among the visitors present were Rev. Plato T. Durham, of Emory; Rev. Walker Carmichael, of Lukeville, Ga.; Rev. Earl E. Moll, who for the past several weeks has been in charge of the revival services at the Underwood Methodist church, and Rev. I. L. Langford, of the Payne Memorial church.

The revival which has been in progress at Underwood Methodist church, under the pastorate of Rev. W. H. LeBarde, closed Sunday evening. A class of 40 converts was received into the church by the pastor.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

Rev. R. Z. Tyler, pastor of the Methodist church at Oakland City, concluded a most successful revival in his congregation Sunday evening, at 8 o'clock, with a prayer service. S. Strickland, pastor, Walker Street Methodist church, of this city, assisted the pastor in this revival.

MORTGAGE TOTALS ON GEORGIA HOMES

Constitution Bureau. Raleigh Hotel. Washington, March 28.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—According to a preliminary report that has just been issued by the department of commerce, through the bureau of the census, the total mortgage debt upon owned homes and farms in the state

"Gets-It" Guaranteed Corn Remover

Your Money Back If It Fails. Nothing is so utterly needless as the feeling from aching, painful corns. It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. Touch it with "Gets-It" and the trick is done. For hard corns, soft corns, old corns, new corns, any corn—or callus. All pain stops instantly and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off, root and all, with the fingers.

Mrs. T. Wells Tells How Cuticura Healed Blisters On Baby

"When baby was three months old she broke out in little clear blisters. After a while the blisters would break and she would scratch them, causing them to become inflamed and form large, sore eruptions. They were all over her body, even in her hair. Her hair fell out and became dry and lifeless. She could hardly stand her clothing, and we could not pick her up without hurting her.

The trouble lasted about five months. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in two weeks could see an improvement. I continued using them and she was healed." (Signed) Mrs. Theodore Wells, R. 1, Box 47, De Ridder, La.

Do you need a Painter?

We can recommend a suitable man for any paint job.

Now is the time to paint, prices are down now, it may cost you more if you delay.

Let us know what kind of painting job you wish and we will put you in touch with the man best fitted to do the job.

Call Ivy 371

F. J. COOLEGEE & SONS
12 N. FORSYTH ST.
Paints Phone Ivy 371 Glass of Georgia in 1920 was $75,671,574, and the total value of these mortgaged homes and farms was $210,767,692, the mortgage debt thus representing 36.4 per cent of the total value. Rented homes, tenant farms, and farms that are partly owned and partly rented are not included in the report.

The total number of homes in the state other than farm homes was 293,708, of which 88,822, or 30.2 per cent, were owned by the occupants; and of these owned homes 20,214, or 22.8 per cent, were mortgaged.

The figures quoted above, while representing information obtained during the fiscal year of 1920, are said to be not much at variance with the present mortgage status of the state. Mortgage values, together with annual total calculations of farm loans, the report stated, do not fluctuate to any noticeable degree, as such negotiations are conducted as a rule over five and ten-year periods, which acts to stabilize valuations and interest rates during otherwise unsettled periods.

Average Values. Information regarding the value of the home and the amount was secured from 11,617, or 57.5 per cent, of these mortgaged homes. The average mortgage debt of the homes for which mortgage reports were secured was $1,840, and the average value was $4,501, and on the basis of these averages the total mortgage debt on the mortgaged homes not on farms is estimated as $38,000,189, and the total value of such homes as $492,188,567. The ratio of mortgage debt to value is 4.2 per cent.

On the item of owned farms, alone, as reported in the census of agriculture, the total mortgage debt was $37,671,385, while the total mortgage value of these mortgaged farms was $124,579,125, the ratio of debt to value being 30.2 per cent.

While these figures may be looked upon as considerable, department of agriculture officials have pointed out that the most progressive states in the union have the largest percentage of ratios of debt to total values.

Loans Conditions. They claim representative companies dealing in farm loans require certain specifications as to the amount of loans received to be employed in land improvements. This requirement, it is said, insures higher profits by enabling farmers to make necessary improvements tending to afford greater production, as well as increased valuations.

It is further pointed out that those states having the greatest percentage of mortgages to the total mortgage value have the highest land valuations in the United States, Iowa and certain other middle western states being named as specific examples.

MAN IN VALDOSTA JAILED AS BOGUS PROHIBITION AGENT

Federal agents left Atlanta last night for Valdosta to press charges of impersonating an officer against W. A. McGuire, said to be from Columbus, who was arrested yesterday.

McGuire is said to have gone to Valdosta last week and posed as advance agent for a flying squadron of prohibition enforcement agents. Under this guise he induced several business men to cash checks for him, which were turned down by the banks on which they were drawn, it is alleged. Other cases may be made for passing bogus checks.

It was reported here that McGuire was wanted on a similar charge in LaGrange, where it is said he was arrested and placed under $500 bond recently. He is held under bond in Valdosta until Thursday when a commitment hearing will be held in federal court there.

Jury Awards $7,000 Verdict to Teacher In New Record Time

A jury in Judge George L. Bell's division of Fulton superior court Monday awarded Miss Vesta C. Johnson, a teacher in the public schools, $7,000 damages in a suit against A. E. Fox. Miss Johnson claimed that she was run over by the Fox automobile which was being driven at the time of the accident by a colored chauffeur.

The jury was drawn, the case tried and the verdict returned in three hours and ten minutes, which is a record in a damage suit, it was stated at the courthouse. The accident occurred January 21, 1921, on Ponce de Leon avenue at the intersection of Hunt street. Miss Johnson sustained a fractured skull.

Attorneys Sam Hewlett and Marion Smith represented the plaintiff.

NEGRO METHODISTS MEETING HERE TODAY

Quarterly session of the A. M. E. Ministers' union will be held in St. Paul A. M. E. church Tuesday evening. The program will be featured by a sermon by Bishop J. S. Flipper. Rev. E. W. Greathart will speak. Music will be furnished by choir of the A. M. E. churches of the city. Rev. C. A. Wingfield, president, will make the opening address.

Rev. L. A. Johnson, presiding elder of the south Atlanta district, will deliver an address Tuesday morning in Bethel A. M. E. church, on "The Christian Sabbath and Why it Should be Kept."

Remount Your Old Style Jewelry Into Modern Designs for the Grand Opera Season

Our annual season of Grand Opera starts April 24th.

About this time every year we have a great many special orders for remounting old-style diamond jewelry into beautiful modern designs in Platinum and white gold.

The time is short and if sketches are required you should take the matter up without delay.

Either call at the store or write our Mail Order Department.

Resetting diamonds is a specialty with us.

MAIER & BERKELEY INC.
Diamond Merchants
31 WHITEHALL STREET

AUTO MAGNATE VISITS BRANCH IN ATLANTA

John N. Willys in Atlanta to Attend Dealer Convention Wednesday.

John North Willys, president of Willys-Overland, arrived in Atlanta at a late hour Monday evening to visit officials of the Atlanta branch and to address approximately 200 Willys-Overland dealers from points in the southeast.

Mr. Willys will spend the day as the guest of Fred S. Patterson and JOHN NORTH WILLYS.

John D. Harrington, manager and assistant manager of his local branch, which serves the entire southeast.

Tuesday Mr. Willys will be host at luncheon at the Piedmont hotel to approximately 200 members of his southeastern dealer organization.

While the subject of his address on this occasion has not yet been announced, it is understood that he will take the dealers into his confidence regarding conditions, present and future.

As the executive head of one of the largest automobile plants in the country, who came up from the ranks of bicycle salesman through every step in the making of an automobile, Mr. Willys is well fitted to judge conditions as they are and to predict the outcome of the coming months.

During the past few weeks he has met and talked with approximately 70 per cent of the dealers in his gigantic organization. Atlanta is one of the last distributing points, in which he has met his dealers in conventions. Thus he comes to Atlanta with a flood of first-hand, recent authentic information on business, and his talk is looked forward to with no little anticipation by his dealers and branch employees.

Changes in Roles For Opera Season Here Made Public

Interesting changes in the roles of a number of operas to be presented in Atlanta by the Metropolitan Grand Opera company during opera week, April 23, were announced Monday by officials of the Atlanta Music Festival, upon receipt of information from New York.

In addition to changes in the casts, which will doubtless be of interest to music lovers here, a number of important changes have been made in the conductors of several operas as well as revisions of the schedule in which the various operas will be presented.

These changes are as follows: Minnie Enger will sing Giovanna in "Ernani" in place of Anthony.

Vincenzo Reschiglian will sing Morales in "Carmen" in place of Lauretti.

Milto Picco will sing Manfredo in "Love of Three Kings" in place of Lauretti.

Minnie Enger will sing A Maid in "Love of Three Kings" in place of Anthony.

Giovanni Martino will sing Win-Shee in "L'Oracolo" in place of Lauretti.

Thomas Chalmers will sing Valentin in "Faust" instead of Lauretti.

Louis Hasselman will conduct "Carmen" and "Faust" instead of Bambochek. Bambochek will conduct "Pagliacci" instead of Papi.

The "Love of Three Kings" and "L'Oracolo," scheduled for Thursday matinee, will be sung Saturday night.

The "Secrets of Susanna" and "Pagliacci," scheduled for Saturday night, will be given Thursday afternoon.

NARCOTICS TAKEN FROM DRUG STORE BY "DOPE" FIENDS

The drug store of John B. Daniel, 32-34 East Wall street, was burglarized either late Sunday night or early Monday morning and robbed of morphine and other narcotics valued at around $400, according to a report made to city detectives Monday.

Authorities believe that the thieves were "dope fiends" and not the general run of burglars as no part of the store except that where the narcotics were stored, was bothered by the burglars.

The detectives who are working on the case are being aided by government agents who have been waging warfare on dealers in narcotics in this section of the state and arrests are expected at an early date.

Simsville Hen Wins First Prize For Originality

BY HENSON TATUM.

For originality the goose that laid the golden eggs had nothing on the White Leghorn hen that scratches industriously in the barnyard of Mrs. H. T. Clark, of Simsville, near Atlanta.

Some of the late product of this hen was exhibited to members of The Constitution's local department Monday night by Mrs. Clark's son, W. M. Mote.

When the hen reached her majority, or whatever a hen reaches to lay eggs, she made a nest and deposited such an egg as ordinary White Leghorn fowls do and announced in a high and gleeful cackle, which evoked no particular commotion in the barnyard colony.

Whether this peevish hen or whether she suddenly decided that the appearance of her egg would be a fine time to make herself a name for uniqueness, nobody knows.

But the next egg she laid was a dead ringer for a partridge egg. The poultry colony gossiped the news in hoarse cackles. The wisecracks didn't know whether she ought to be expelled or lionized. Next day she produced a perfect imitation of a guinea egg, minus the speckled appearance.

Then she got to varying the size of her fruit. One day she would lay a bird egg. Another time she would cackle shrilly over one just beyond bird range. But two days ago she mounted the pedestal of fame.

She produced an oblong egg, small, three inches in length and shaped exactly like the straight handled drinking gourd that used to hang above the country springs of cooling water before the unromantic tin dipper's debut.

Mrs. Clark is saving the interesting collection of eggs and will color them as an Easter curiosity for her juvenile relatives.

ALL ALLEGATIONS IN SUIT DENIED BY RICHARDSON

In answer to the $22,500 damage suit brought against him in Fulton superior court by J. H. Andrews, a former deputy in his office, W. S. Richardson, tax collector Monday, made a complete denial of all the allegations.

Mr. Andrews, who ran on the ticket with Mr. Richardson, alleged in his suit that he entered into a contract with the latter whereby he was to receive $7,500 the first year and $10,000 each succeeding year until the expiration of Mr. Richardson's four-year term. He declares that the $7,500 was paid promptly, but that during the second year he was dismissed from the tax collector's office for no cause whatever.

The tax collector denied that such a contract existed, as asserted by Mr. Andrews, and set out that the latter is not due any money from him. All allegations as regards the contract are denied.

HEAR FINAL REPORTS ON ZONE PLAN FRIDAY

The ordinance committee of city council will hold a final hearing on the proposed zoning plan for Atlanta Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock. A majority and a minority report are expected, the majority report being favorable to the law as revised to date by the city planning commission.

Robert H. Whitten, consultant to the commission, will be present at the hearing to explain any detail of the plan about which the committee might want additional information.

CHADWICK TO LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Clarence W. Chadwick, C. S. B., of Omaha, Neb., will explain Christian Science as "Religion Made Practical," in his lecture at the Christian Science church, Peachtree and Fifteenth streets, Tuesday night.

The lecture will begin promptly at 8 o'clock and is free to the public. No collection will be taken. Mr. Chadwick is a member of the board of trustees of the mother church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston.

Extra street cars will be available after the lecture.

GET RID OF CONSTIPATION Take Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills They Will KEEP YOUR BOWELS REGULAR AS A CLOCK

For the Adding Machine DAYLIGHT is best for the eyes because Nature made it perfect in quality and diffusion. You can have electric daylight on every desk with Emeralite and the new Daylight Attachment.

Better light means better eyes—better work. Emeralites add tone and increase the efficiency of any office. The cheapest eye insurance you can buy. Write for booklet showing 50 patterns.

H. G. McFADDIN & CO.
37 Warren St. New York City
Makers of Lighting Devices since 1874

KIND TO THE EYES

EYE SAVING DAYLIGHT

Distributed in Atlanta, Ga., by GANTER ELECTRIC COMPANY, 111 Maywood Street, and F. J. B. COMPANY, 101 E. Peachtree Street.

FOOTE & DAVIS COMPANY, Cor. Edgewood Ave. and Pryor St. For Sale by Office Supply and Electrical Dealers.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICARS

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS OFFERS FINE PROGRAM

An attractive program was presented at the First Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning, when representatives from the various classes made talks of the Sunday school lessons in the quarter just closed.

Those taking part were Clifton Dorn, Sam Inman, Miss

HOW TO GET RID OF CATARRH

A Simple, Safe, Inexpensive Method That Clears Out the Head, Nose and Throat.

There is no disease more offensive or disagreeable, or no disease that will lead to as much serious trouble as catarrh. You can now get rid of it by a simple, safe, pleasant home remedy discovered by Dr. Blosser, a catarrh specialist.

Dr. Blosser's Remedy is composed of medicinal herbs, flowers and berries, which you smoke in a dainty pipe or cigarette. The smoke-vapor is inhaled into all the air passages of the head, nose, throat and lungs and carries medicine where sprays, douches and ointments cannot possibly reach. Its effect is soothing and healing, and is entirely harmless. It contains no cubes or tobacco, and may be used by women and children as well as men.

If you suffer from catarrh, asthma, catarrhal deafness, or are subject to frequent colds, try Dr. Blosser's Remedy, which may be had at any well-stocked drug store in 35c and $1.25 sizes. Satisfactory results guaranteed.—(adv.)

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Get a 25c. Box

Used for over 30 years

Ada Davis, Miss Isabel Breitenbach, Miss Ruth Debus Smith, Mrs. Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

net Munger, Miss Margaret Hodnett, Miss Muriel Daniel. The officers of the school are Paul L. Fleming, superintendent; George D. Hoyt, Miss Mamie L. Pitts and E. S. Burgess, assistants.

MORE U. S. FUNDS TO GEORGIA PORTS

Constitution Bureau.
Raleigh Hotel.
Washington, March 27.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—Georgia waterways and ports will receive approximately $500,000 additional funds for navigation improvements under an amendment to the military appropriations bill which was favorably acted upon by the house committee today. The house sitting as a committee of the whole increased the present rivers and harbors appropriation from $27,000,000, the present sum, to $42,000,000, which will make available to the state its proportionate increase over the amount now received from the federal government, estimated at nearly the million and a quarter mark. Congressman J. W. Overstreet, of the first district, addressed the body in behalf of an extended program for Georgia waterways. He pointed out the importance of Savannah as a port and made a plea for greater funds for the maintenance of proper channels, declaring the harbor of that city offered better facilities for development as a cotton shipping center than any other port in the south.

Sticks to Subject.
There is at present, he pointed out, provision for $1,225,000 in maintaining and improving the state's main port, which amount he declared to be entirely inadequate for full development. An amusing incident of his speech causing laughter and applause came when Speaker Gillette notified the Georgia congressman that his time had expired under regulations of the house. Representative Overstreet was so engrossed in his subject until it was a full two minutes before the chair was able to vacate the floor.

Other waterways and harbors which will be affected by the amendment, include Ocmulgee and Oconee rivers and the harbor at Brunswick, all of which will receive liberal increases over the present appropriation.

House leaders have pointed out that the approval of the amendment by the committee as a whole will insure its passage as a part of the main bill which is expected to reach a vote during the week. It was explained that when the military appropriations bill is acted upon by the house, the vote will be entirely on the measure as submitted, consideration of amendments being prohibited after agreement by the committee as a whole.

Fund for Benning.
Included in the main bill is another amendment of interest to the state of Georgia which provides a fund of $400,000 for construction work at Camp Benning. This amendment, was sponsored by Congressman W. C. Wright, of Newnan, and received overwhelming support from the committee. Congressman Wright, who is a member of the military affairs committee, explained that the Camp Benning appropriation will be devoted to making the Georgia camp one of the most highly perfected army stations in the country. The measure contemplates adding large improvements necessitating enlarged construction and facilities for military maneuvers, he said.

Although the amendment affecting the state is assured passage in the house, the bill will have to be presented to the senate before final adjustment, as regulations require that legislation of the kind originates in the lower body.

TARIFF AND BONUS MAY SPLIT G. O. P.

Continued from first page.

recess giving that body some six weeks' leave while the senate is wrestling with the tariff bill.

Disgruntled house republicans have made known that business men are complaining over the delay in tariff legislation; and with the outspoken charges that the present tariff program was drawn up for the purpose of serving big business interest, democrats have predicted a reaction here. It has leaked out, minority leaders assert, that business men are flooding congress with letters protesting that too much of a delay has been permitted.

Minority leaders also declare that the present uncertainty of tariff legislation is reflected in the general business condition of the country. They say some determined form of tariff is better than the present action, and that the longer tariff readjustment is put off the longer prosperity is delayed. A widespread discontent, aside from that which exists among house majority leaders, is prevalent all over the country, democrats declare, explaining that thousands of small merchants and business men are withholding their full quota of orders and negotiations pending some definite knowledge as to what the contents of the bill will be and how their particular interest will be affected thereby.

No Program Completed.

They point out that although the present administration has been in power over a year, during which time the country has undergone one of its severest business crises and when above all times some settled action should be taken on legislation bearing so wholly on the common lot, no program has yet been completed.

The cause of so much delay on the part of the senate is said to be the belief that the reaction against the party in power, which was conspicuous a few months ago, has subsided. At that time, republican leaders say, there was a great discontent in the country due to the lack of employment, depressed times, and the falling prices on farm products. The administration was charged with the responsibility of conditions, which caused a strong reaction against the party in control.

But just as the republican leaders felt that this reaction was beginning to wane, absorbed by improvement in business and a lessening in unemployment, new issues arose which offered discouragement. The greatest of these is the bonus dispute. Then there is the tariff.

Treaties' Effect Small.

Ratification of the treaties, in the opinion of those connected with the campaign committees, is not going to have any appreciable effect on the people in vote getting, except so far as their adoption means a reduction in expenditures for the army and navy. Some of the good effect of the treaties, republican leaders here contend, already has been lost by the administration which is fighting for an army of 150,000 and a navy of 50,000 men.

The people had become convinced that the treaties looked to peace and, therefore, there would be a radical reduction in military expenses, house leaders say, and they intend to maintain their position for a reduction in both the army and navy as a proper economy, believing that if they succeed the appeal to the voters will be more effective.

Political observers say that the reaction against the republican party has halted, but that sentiment is so fluid that it may quickly crystallize favorably or unfavorably for the party in power. There is no decided drift as yet, they say, and it is because of the lack of certainty of sentiment that the party leaders are worried about the tariff, the bonus agitation and the asserted differences between the house and the president on the army and navy.

NEW MODIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF FORD

Continued from first page.

company, the committees will be disposed to recommend the acceptance of his proposal, predicated upon a mutual contract agreement as to the manufacture of nitrates for fertilizers as per his tentative agreement.

Up to Ford.
To recapitulate the situation as it stands tonight, therefore, Henry Ford will never get the Muscle Shoals properties unless he either eliminates the Gorgas power plant from his proposition, or accepts a tender of the government's rights as they stand as of this day, and that he will get them if he thus modifies his offer, together with two or three other less important modifications that the government will insist upon. The situation, therefore, will be squarely up to the Detroit manufacturer.

In the meantime, Frederick E. Engstrom, of Wilmington, N. C., who is also a bidder for the Muscle Shoals properties, announced tonight that he would modify his proposal, eliminating the interlocked Gorgas plant from his contract and structure property.

for operating under government auspices only and is in line with the recently announced intention of Senator Norris to urge government ownership and operation of these nitrate plants in the manufacture of fertilizer.

It is enough to say here that there is little or no favor given to the Norris proposal among his congressional colleagues and house members, say that such a measure would be overwhelmingly defeated in the end at the capital.

Probable Alternative.
As it stands, if Henry Ford does not get Muscle Shoals, which will depend entirely upon a further move by him, it is practically certain that congress will accept the recent suggestion of Chairman Kahn, of the house military committee, and provide a Muscle Shoals commission to complete the Wilson dam and the partially completed nitrate plants and then dispose of the properties to the best interest of the government, with the manufacture of commercial nitrates as the basic industry. The Alabama Power company's proposal will not be accepted, it is understood.

The government has approximately $115,000,000 invested in these properties at this hour, and completion would represent the largest physical undertaking since the building of the Panama canal, hence the nation-wide interest displayed.

TO INSPECT SHOALS TODAY.

The congressional party left Gorgas late in the day and was due at Sheffield late tonight. The inspection tour will be continued at Muscle Shoals tomorrow and Wednesday.

Members of the senate committee are Chairman Norris, Nebraska; Harold, Oklahoma; Norbeck, South Dakota; Ladd, North Dakota; McKinley, Illinois; republican, and Heflin, Alabama; Kendrick, Wyoming; and Randall, Louisiana, democrats.

House committee members are Hull, Iowa; Kearns, Ohio; Miller, Washington; James, Michigan; Hill, Maryland; Parker, New Jersey; Wurzbach, Texas, republicans, and Quinn, Illinois, republican, and Fisher, Tennessee; Wright, Georgia, and Stoll, South Carolina, democrats.

Ex-officio members are Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee; Senator Nicholson, republican, Colorado, and Representative Almon, democrat, Alabama, in whose district Muscle Shoals is located.

SENATE RATIFIES PACT SUPPLEMENT

Continued from first page.

Lodge immediately called up the five-power naval reduction treaty, which he made the "business business" of the senate. Consideration of this pact will begin Tuesday, and is expected to proceed with less opposition than that which accompanied the four-power treaty.

The conclusion of the debate in the senate came suddenly, after a day of confusion and wrangling. Lodge at first wanted ratification of the declaration and the supplemental treaty; then he proposed separate ratification, and finally evolved the compromise which was adopted. Changes of tactics drew biting comments from Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking minority member of the foreign relations committee, and from Senator Robinson, democratic irreconcilable of Arkansas.

Hitchcock warned that Japan might refuse to ratify the declaration, and said that immigration was one of the most probable sources of future friction in the Pacific.

Procedure Denounced.
"Japan can ratify the four-power treaty and shake her finger at us as far as the declaration is concerned," said Hitchcock.

Robinson denounced the procedure of adopting the declaration as a reservation.

The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

"The senator from Massachusetts proposed to disperse of the Japanese immigration and land owning questions, the two which most vitally affect the peace of the Pacific, by merely dissolving them as reservations in a supplemental agreement," said Robinson.

inason. "Could anything be more palpably absurd, and more expressive of the strange mental processes in which the senator from Massachusetts has been indulging?"

The people of California, Robinson predicted, will be heard from. He praised Senator Johnson, of that state, for his attitude, and declared Johnson had been subjected to a "flank attack" in his own state by Secretary Hoover and the British ambassador.

Amendments Rejected.
Johnson, in a speech, said the immigration and land problems were two of the most serious with which the coast and western states had to deal. He spoke of the "peculiar ingenuity" of the Japanese, and said it was impossible to tell what conclusions they might reach unless the position of the senate were made clear beyond any doubt.

The senate declined to accept an amendment to the supplemental treaty offered by Robinson, exempting the southern half of Sakhalin Island, formerly Russian territory now occupied by the Japanese, from the scope of the four-power treaty. It likewise refused to approve an effort by Senator Flinn, democrat of Nevada, to have immigration listed as one of the domestic problems barred from international discussion.

VISHNU TO HYPNOTIZE SUBJECT FROM WGM

Continued from first page.

in a prominent downtown store where the public can see that she is really under hypnotic influence.

Vishnu, the hypnotist who will make the test, has been engaged in the profession eleven years, being a pupil of the noted Dr. Flint, who was perhaps the foremost hypnotist and psychologist of his age. Vishnu is the first to suggest the idea of hypnotizing a subject over the wireless telephone as far as all records show.

"I am as sure that this can be done as I am that I am living," Vishnu said Monday. "The best way to prove a thing, however, is to do it. When a subject is once controlled only the sound of the voice is needed. If the sound of the human voice can be transmitted over wireless as I know it can, there is no reason in the world why a subject cannot be controlled over the wireless. I shall put a subject to sleep at the second performance at the Lyric Wednesday night. This subject will go to sleep on the stage under my control, although I shall be in the radio station several blocks distant. She will be placed in a show window where she will continue her sleep under the eyes of the public. On Thursday night at the second performance I shall awaken the subject after she has slept nearly thirty hours. I shall awaken her from the radio station."

Will Not Approach Her.
"During all this time I shall not approach the subject except one time in the presence of the committee to turn the subject over to show that she is not under the influence of any anesthetic. In fact the entire demonstration will be made wholly over the wireless."

Vishnu said he can perform this test successfully if the human voice can be transmitted from the radio station to the stage of the Lyric theater.

The Constitution will see that this is done and the experiment will be made in full view of the public. If successful, which Vishnu declares is certain, Atlanta will have the distinction of being the first city in which such a feat was performed.

Full details of the test will be published in The Constitution Wednesday morning.

Turkey's area is about 685,000 square miles.

Let Fatima smokers tell you

FATIMA CIGARETTES

Twenty for 23¢

Always higher in price than other Turkish Blend cigarettes but—just taste the difference!

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

THE TIRE COMPETITION OF TOMORROW

HERE has been more advance in the art of tire making in the past five years than in almost any other one thing.

That so many of these advances originated with the makers of U. S. Tires is perhaps aside from the point.

The concern of the car owner himself is how he is going to benefit.

If tire manufacturers make no attempt to out rival each other in quality, where does the tire user get his consideration?

The makers of United States Tires urge upon everybody—manufacturer and dealer alike—a new kind of competition.

For the production of United States Tires there is erected and operating the greatest group of tire factories in the world.

A leadership that has recorded itself with the public. The outstanding example of what faithful quality and sound economy can do when it is patient enough to prove itself to a whole nation.

United States Tires are Good Tires

Copyright U. S. Tire Co.

U. S. Royal Cord Tires

United States Rubber Company

Tire Branch, 495 Peachtree Street

For QUALITY--- VALUE--- STYLE---

Ask Your Dealer for

SHOES

For 50 years Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co. has consistently maintained a high quality standard. Quality is our first consideration --and is not sacrificed to make shoes at a price.

Hamilton-Brown shoes are

The Greatest Values Now Offered in Good Shoes

Our Quality Brands

"American Lady" Shoes
"American Gentleman" Shoes
"Security" School Shoes
Sunlight "Popular" Shoes

Hamilton-Brown Shoe Co.

Manufacturers

ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI

OUR MOTTO—"Keep the Quality Up"

News of Society and
Woman's WorkTHE CONSTITUTION'S
DAILY WOMAN'S MAGAZINEFeatures Which Will Interest
Every WomanCandidacy of Mrs. J. E. Hays
Endorsed by Woman's Club

A motion was made by Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith at the regular meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club yesterday afternoon and unanimously carried in favor of the nomination of Mrs. J. E. Hays, president of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, for the office of recording secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Price-Smith also introduced a resolution, which was carried, endorsing the action of Mrs. Thomas G. Winter in creating a department of international affairs. A letter to this effect will be sent Mrs. Winter.

Proposed Charter Features Meeting. The meeting was largely devoted to matters of civic interest, and this part of the program was presided over by Mrs. Rogers Winter, chairman of the club. Mrs. Winter presented a paper on the proposed charter of the club, which was read by Mrs. H. C. Choate, author and editor of the composite form of charter. In introducing Mrs. Choate, Mrs. Winter urged the women to register. Mrs. Choate touched upon the high lights of the charter of which he is the author and explained in a clear, concise manner the official policy and the duties of each. He paid tribute to Mrs. Norman Sharp and Mrs. Samuel Inman, club members, who are on the special charter committee of citizens and councilmen appointed by Mayor Key. Mr. Choate declared that the charter which he exhibited was conceived in terms of a great business organization, and that it was a city of the size of Atlanta should be operated. Drafts of the charter were exhibited to the club members.

Educational System Discussed. Following Mr. Choate's talk Dr. N. L. Engelhardt, of the Columbia survey commission, made some interesting comments on Atlanta's educational system and recommended the adoption of new measures. Dr. Engelhardt deplored the lack of educational facilities in this city, and declared that for the approximate wealth and population of this city it ranked lowest in educational advancement as compared with the 45 other cities of the same wealth and size. He urged the spending of 40 cents out of every dollar of funds devoted to municipal purposes for school expenditures, and when the question was raised as to whether Atlanta could afford this amount, declared emphatically that it could. He also informed that part of the Choate charter pertaining to the election of five members of the board of education from the city at large, the Field-Perkerson Wedding

Solemnized at St. Luke's

The marriage of Miss Medora Field and Angus Perkerson took place Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at St. Luke's Episcopal church. Dr. C. B. Wilmer officiating. A large assemblage of relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony. The church was effectively decorated with palms, white and pink flowers, and a large chandelier. The bride wore a gown of white tulle, and the groom wore a tuxedo. The ceremony was a simple one, and the bride and groom were married by the minister.

Beautiful Bride. The bride entered with her brother-in-law, J. W. Dowdle, of Rome. She was beautiful in a dark blue suit of Poirer twill, fashioned cape style, elaborately embroidered in platinum, worn with blue tulle crepe over-bustle, embroidered. Her hair was of a midnight blue, and she wore a crown of white roses. She wore a corsage of white roses and valley lilies.

Wedding Journey. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to St. Augustine and other points in Florida, after which they will be at home in the Blackstone apartments.

Miss Lis Larsen Is Lovely Guest Of Miss Owens.

Miss Kirma Lis Larsen, of Denmark, arrived in Atlanta yesterday to visit Miss Theodora Owens, at her home on Peachtree street, for the Easter holidays.

Miss Lis Larsen and Miss Owens are roommates at Briarcliffe Manor, a fashionable boarding school in New York, and are two of the prettiest young girls attending this school. Miss Lis Larsen is a decided blonde with most charming manners and personality. Her parents desired that she be educated in America and she will graduate in June from Briarcliffe. Mr. and Mrs. Lis Larsen will come to New York for her graduation exercises.

Many parties are being planned in honor of this attractive young girl. Miss Owens will give a bridge luncheon in her honor at the Piedmont Driving club, and on Saturday evening Frank Owens will entertain at the dinner-dance at the Piedmont Driving club with Miss Lis Larsen the guest of honor.

State Board to Hold Examination.

The state board examination of graduates of nursing schools will be held on April 12 and 13 in Atlanta, Macon, Augusta and Savannah, Ga. The graduates of all accredited training schools for nurses who have been issued a diploma from their schools are eligible to stand examination to become registered nurses of Georgia. About sixty-five nurses have applied for the examination.

Dinner Is Given
For Bridal Party
By Miss Wimpy

Miss Birdie Wimpy entertained at the Georgian Terrace Sunday evening in compliment to her niece, Miss Emily Wimpy, of Clarkston, whose marriage to Young Harris Fraser, will be an event of Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock.

Dinner was served in a private dining room, arranged with handsome palms as a background for tall pedestals filled with Easter lilies and pink roses. The elegantly appointed table was adorned with a large basket of pink roses and Easter lilies. Just back of the bride and groom stood a tall panel basket vase filled with bride's roses, forming a canopy above them, while the elaborate centerpiece was of the roses and Easter lilies. The place cards were miniature bride and groom, forming a canopy above them, while the elaborate centerpiece was of the roses and Easter lilies. The place cards were miniature bride and groom, forming a canopy above them, while the elaborate centerpiece was of the roses and Easter lilies.

Gounod's 'Faust'
To Be Presented
At Howard Today

A number of people are buying season tickets to the opera musicals presented by the Atlanta Woman's club at the Howard theater, and using them to entertain theater parties, thus enabling a party of seven to be entertained on one ticket.

The opera for Tuesday morning, "Faust," is one of the most popular and well known of the repertoire which the Metropolitan Opera company will present this season. It was written by Francis Gounod and when presented here in April will be the medium for such great singers as Harold, who will portray the title role; Rothier, as Mephistopheles, and Florence Easton, as Marguerite.

"Faust" contains some of the most exquisite airs of any of the operas, and these will be sung Tuesday morning by well-known Atlanta artists. Mrs. Grace Lee Townsend, who has achieved some splendid work, both as a teacher and concert singer, and whose lovely soprano voice is heard at St. Philip's cathedral as soloist, will sing the exquisite "Jewel Song." She will also sing with Henry G. Rudolph, tenor, and John Mullin, basso, the famous trio, "Alerte! on vous cete perdue!"

Henry G. Rudolph, who has recently moved here from New York, has already established himself as a musician of worth, will sing the lovely cavatine sung by Faust, "Salut demeure." Mr. Rudolph is soloist at St. Philip's cathedral, and has a tenor voice of wide range and exquisite tone. Foster Barnes, baritone, will sing the beautiful air of Valentine, Mr. Barnes is the president of the Emory Glee club and well known as a concert singer of rare ability. His "Prologue" from Paganini, heard at the second concert of the series, was received with considerable ovation. John Mullin has a rich basso voice ideally suited to the role of Mephistopheles.

The musical numbers will be interpolated throughout the reading of the opera by Mrs. Earl Sherwood Jackson, who will wear a "Marguerite" costume, a replica of one which Geraldine Farrar wore in this role at the Metropolitan. Mrs. Jackson reads with a rare understanding, for possessing as she does keen musical intelligence, in addition to her dramatic talent, she places the greater emphasis on the parts of greater musical beauty, then rendering them more understandable to the audience.

The costumes worn by Mrs. Jackson at each concert add much to the attractiveness of the reading by suggesting the atmosphere of the story.

Lilac Time

ED. PINAUD'S LILAC

The great French Parfumer years ago created Lilac Vegetal, so like the blossom that at its perfume one indeed marvels.

Instead of having this old-fashioned garden fragrance only a few weeks every Spring, now one can enjoy it the year round.

Lilac Time is All The Time

A carton (six bottles) of ED. PINAUD'S LILAC is fragrance for many months. Buy at any drug or department store.

Parfumerie ED. PINAUD
American Import Offices
ED. PINAUD BLDG. New York

Today's Calendar

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

The Atlanta Smith College club will meet at the home of Miss Mamie Branch Powers, 164 Peachtree circle.

The Catholic Club of Business and Professional Women will hold its regular semi-monthly supper meeting this evening at 6:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce cafe.

The regular monthly meeting of the Alumnae Association of the Georgia Baptist Hospital Training School for Nurses will be held at the hospital at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. T. T. Stevens calls a meeting of the members of her lecture committee for this morning at 9:45 o'clock on the mezzanine floor of the Howard theater, immediately preceding the opera musical.

The Buckeye Woman's club will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. McAllister, 408 Euclid avenue.

The College Park Woman's club will present a most attractive program this afternoon. Mrs. L. O. Freeman, chairman of junior civics, will preside.

This evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, Martha chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a regular meeting at their temple room, 24 in the Masonic temple of the Battle Hill lodge, on Lucile avenue, West End.

Mrs. Tom Lewis, president of the Fulton Council council, and Miss Floy Shannon, Fulton county demonstrator, will be present tonight at 7:30 o'clock at a meeting to which the public is invited.

The P. T. Club of the Mount Vernon school, at Tamar Yards, will hold an important business meeting this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The regular monthly meeting of the East Atlanta P. T. club will be held at the schoolhouse this afternoon.

The Lucile Avenue School Parent-Teacher club will meet at 2 o'clock today.

Miss Eleanor Raoul will speak on the city charter at the Y. W. C. A. League of Business Women.

SOCIAL ITEMS

J. S. Deane, now of New York city but formerly of Atlanta, is very seriously ill at Davis-Fischer sanitarium to the regret of his many friends.

Mrs. Guy Carpenter, of New York, is visiting Mrs. William Hunt in the Della Manta apartments.

Mrs. J. J. Falvey has returned to her home on Peachtree place, following an operation at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Mrs. M. D. Jarman, of New Orleans, who has been visiting friends here for the past two weeks, is now the guest of Mrs. C. A. Fair at Cascade Terrace. Mrs. Jarman was formerly Miss Blanche Carroll, of Atlanta.

Miss Pauline DeGivie and her guests, Mrs. Jane Barrett of Birmingham, and Miss Josephine Jencks, of Providence, R. I., returned yesterday to school at Aiken.

Mrs. William T. Healey and William and Oliver will leave on June 15, sailing on the Berengaria from New York, to travel for several months in England and on the continent. Professor E. McCune will go with the party, and William Healey, who is at school at Andover, Mass., will join them in New York.

Miss Mary Burchell, who has been ill at Piedmont sanitarium, is now able to see her friends.

Dr. William C. Warren, Jr., left Sunday for Boston, where he will be an interne in the Peter Best Brigham hospital.

Miss Elizabeth Whitman will return to her home in Athens, Ga., where she spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Kathryn Ashford.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor S. Franks announce the birth of a daughter March 26, who has been given the name of Beverly Rockwell. Mrs. Franks was formerly Miss Miriam Fudge.

Miss Louise Smith, Miss Clyde Pettus and Miss Della Johnston have returned from Charleston, where they visited Magnolia Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Van Harlingen have returned from a month's visit to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. DeGivie will have as their guests for Easter week Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cramer, of Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. Josef Hoffman and daughter, Joseffa, of Aiken S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson have as their guests their sister, Mrs. Williams, of Charleston.

Mrs. George W. Belne, who has been ill, has recovered and has joined Mr. Belne at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. J. C. Rathbone, of New Orleans, spent a short time in the city yesterday on her way home from Aiken.

Mrs. Allen M. Martin is spending several weeks in Tampa.

The wedding rehearsal of the Wimpy-Fraser bridal party will be followed by an informal party.

Mrs. Stephen Barnett will entertain the members of the 1905 History class at tea in compliment to Mrs. K. S. Matheson.

en's Clubs at their monthly meeting to be held at the "Y," Peachtree Arcade, tonight at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Meeting of the citizenship committee of East Lake P. T. club at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Clements.

The Mothers' class of the First Baptist Sunday school will meet at 3 o'clock at the Eliza Mangel Home for Girls, 171 East Fair street.

The regular "Daddies" meeting of the Hill Street school will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Englehart, of Columbia university, will be the principal speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of the East Atlanta P. T. club will be held at the schoolhouse this afternoon.

The Lucile Avenue School Parent-Teacher club will meet at 2 o'clock today.

Miss Eleanor Raoul will speak on the city charter at the Y. W. C. A. League of Business Women.

Dorough-Methvin
Wedding Party
Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Dorough entertained the Dorough-Methvin wedding party at a buffet supper Monday evening following the wedding rehearsal. Bright spring flowers artistically arranged were used in the reception apartments. The table in the dining room was graced with Easter lilies in a tall silver vase. Silver candlesticks held unshaded tapers.

Miss Dorough was lovely in a gown of black satin combined with silver lace.

Mrs. Dorough wore gray Canton crepe.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. Robert Gordon Adams, of Florida, and Miss Roy Mitchell, of Ackworth. The guests included members of the wedding party and a few intimate friends.

returned from Charleston, where they visited Magnolia Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Van Harlingen have returned from a month's visit to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. DeGivie will have as their guests for Easter week Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cramer, of Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. Josef Hoffman and daughter, Joseffa, of Aiken S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson have as their guests their sister, Mrs. Williams, of Charleston.

Mrs. George W. Belne, who has been ill, has recovered and has joined Mr. Belne at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. J. C. Rathbone, of New Orleans, spent a short time in the city yesterday on her way home from Aiken.

Mrs. Allen M. Martin is spending several weeks in Tampa.

The wedding rehearsal of the Wimpy-Fraser bridal party will be followed by an informal party.

Mrs. Stephen Barnett will entertain the members of the 1905 History class at tea in compliment to Mrs. K. S. Matheson.

en's Clubs at their monthly meeting to be held at the "Y," Peachtree Arcade, tonight at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Meeting of the citizenship committee of East Lake P. T. club at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Clements.

The Mothers' class of the First Baptist Sunday school will meet at 3 o'clock at the Eliza Mangel Home for Girls, 171 East Fair street.

The regular "Daddies" meeting of the Hill Street school will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Englehart, of Columbia university, will be the principal speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of the East Atlanta P. T. club will be held at the schoolhouse this afternoon.

The Lucile Avenue School Parent-Teacher club will meet at 2 o'clock today.

Miss Eleanor Raoul will speak on the city charter at the Y. W. C. A. League of Business Women.

J. S. Deane, now of New York city but formerly of Atlanta, is very seriously ill at Davis-Fischer sanitarium to the regret of his many friends.

Mrs. Guy Carpenter, of New York, is visiting Mrs. William Hunt in the Della Manta apartments.

Mrs. J. J. Falvey has returned to her home on Peachtree place, following an operation at St. Joseph's infirmary.

Mrs. M. D. Jarman, of New Orleans, who has been visiting friends here for the past two weeks, is now the guest of Mrs. C. A. Fair at Cascade Terrace. Mrs. Jarman was formerly Miss Blanche Carroll, of Atlanta.

Miss Pauline DeGivie and her guests, Mrs. Jane Barrett of Birmingham, and Miss Josephine Jencks, of Providence, R. I., returned yesterday to school at Aiken.

Mrs. William T. Healey and William and Oliver will leave on June 15, sailing on the Berengaria from New York, to travel for several months in England and on the continent. Professor E. McCune will go with the party, and William Healey, who is at school at Andover, Mass., will join them in New York.

Miss Mary Burchell, who has been ill at Piedmont sanitarium, is now able to see her friends.

Dr. William C. Warren, Jr., left Sunday for Boston, where he will be an interne in the Peter Best Brigham hospital.

Miss Elizabeth Whitman will return to her home in Athens, Ga., where she spent the week-end as the guest of Miss Kathryn Ashford.

Mr. and Mrs. Minor S. Franks announce the birth of a daughter March 26, who has been given the name of Beverly Rockwell. Mrs. Franks was formerly Miss Miriam Fudge.

Miss Louise Smith, Miss Clyde Pettus and Miss Della Johnston have returned from Charleston, where they visited Magnolia Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Van Harlingen have returned from a month's visit to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. DeGivie will have as their guests for Easter week Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Cramer, of Charlotte, N. C., and Mrs. Josef Hoffman and daughter, Joseffa, of Aiken S. C.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson have as their guests their sister, Mrs. Williams, of Charleston.

Mrs. George W. Belne, who has been ill, has recovered and has joined Mr. Belne at the Georgian Terrace.

Mrs. J. C. Rathbone, of New Orleans, spent a short time in the city yesterday on her way home from Aiken.

Mrs. Allen M. Martin is spending several weeks in Tampa.

The wedding rehearsal of the Wimpy-Fraser bridal party will be followed by an informal party.

Mrs. Stephen Barnett will entertain the members of the 1905 History class at tea in compliment to Mrs. K. S. Matheson.

en's Clubs at their monthly meeting to be held at the "Y," Peachtree Arcade, tonight at 7 o'clock. Supper will be served at 6 o'clock.

Meeting of the citizenship committee of East Lake P. T. club at 3 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Clements.

The Mothers' class of the First Baptist Sunday school will meet at 3 o'clock at the Eliza Mangel Home for Girls, 171 East Fair street.

The regular "Daddies" meeting of the Hill Street school will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. Englehart, of Columbia university, will be the principal speaker.

The regular monthly meeting of the East Atlanta P. T. club will be held at the schoolhouse this afternoon.

The Lucile Avenue School Parent-Teacher club will meet at 2 o'clock today.

Miss Eleanor Raoul will speak on the city charter at the Y. W. C. A. League of Business Women.

Dr. and Mrs. Matheson Are Given Exquisite Tokens

The reception given yesterday afternoon by President and Mrs. K. G. Matheson, of the Georgia School of Technology, in honor of the faculty with their wives, and the members of the senior class, repeated in its beauty and enjoyment the traditions of this event, an annual expression of hospitality ever since Dr. Matheson assumed the presidency of the school.

In spite of the completeness of yesterday's hospitality, and the congeniality of the company assembled, there was a character of sadness in the occasion, however, in that it was a final coming together of Dr. and Mrs. Matheson with the faculty family and the seniors before the departure of Dr. and Mrs. Matheson to Philadelphia, where he will take up the presidency of Drexel institute.

A surprise feature was the presentation to Dr. and Mrs. Matheson by the members of the Georgia Tech Woman's club with four silver candlesticks which matched the silver service given to Dr. and Mrs. Matheson by the faculty and students last Wednesday when the military department held a farewell review in Dr. Matheson's honor.

Mrs. W. H. Emerson, president of the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given Mrs. Matheson as a reminder of the club's appreciation of her, of what she has done for the club, and of what she has always meant to the club.

Mrs. Emerson expressed the sentiment of the club when she said, "We do this because we love you, have always loved you and always will love you." Mrs. Matheson is a woman of strong personality and has always been an inspiration to the club. She will be missed by her many friends but the wives of the faculty of Georgia Tech declare that they will feel the loss more keenly, perhaps, than any of her other friends.

A number of Atlanta's most charming members of the younger set were present.

Yellow and white roses, jonquils, daffodils and hyacinths carried out the school colors in the decorations.

C. D. Leiby, president of the senior class, assisted Dr. and Mrs. Matheson in receiving.

Mrs. Matheson wore a becoming gown of brown silk and lace.

Over 200 guests called during the afternoon.

the club, and a close friend of Mrs. Matheson, presented the gift. The candlesticks were given

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

THE GENEROUS BUT TYRANNICAL MAN.

How many men are generous about money with their wives and yet, at the same time, tyrants in regard to it? Do those two statements seem opposed to you? I don't think they are. A woman came in to see me the other day, wearing a beautiful new fur. She had admired it, she said, when she saw it in a window, and her husband had insisted that she go and get it. "He's awfully generous, isn't he?" said another woman who was present. "He certainly is," said the wife, warmly. "I really shouldn't have had such an expensive fur just now, but he knew I was crazy about it, and he was bound I should have it." She paused a minute, and then sighed. "It seems horrid to say it, but sometimes I wish he were less generous and more just."

Thinks She Has Spent It. And then she went on to tell what she meant. He would have times of lavish expenditure, when he would buy her beautiful things that were really beyond their means. And then when the bill came in for household things that she really needed, he would rant and rant as if she meant to land him in the poorhouse. She admitted that she had some small extravagances, but no more than a husband, and probably not so many, but as they had no budget and kept no accounts, he always assumed that it was she who was responsible when too much money was spent. She said she would rather have less money and have it a definite sum, absolutely her own, to do with as he did, just as she saw fit without fear of subsequent criticism.

Now, maybe, she was wrong about herself. We often are. Maybe she wouldn't like less money, even if she had it absolutely her own, but I fancy

YOUR MONEY will get results in Picture Framing Georgia Art Supply Co. Manufacturers, Jobbers, Retailers At 65 South Broad St.

Head Stuffed By Catarrh or Cold? Use Healing Cream

If your nostrils are clogged, your throat distressed, or your head is stuffed by nasty catarrh or a cold, apply a little pure, antiseptic, germ-destroying cream into your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage, soothing inflamed, swollen membranes and you get instant relief. How good it feels. Your nostrils are open. Your head is clear. No more hawking, sniffling, dryness or struggling for breath. Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from any druggist. Colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed up. Relief is sure.—(adv.)

Summer Fares much lower

FARES this summer via the Union Pacific System will in many cases be more than 25% below those of last year. The war tax is abolished, and the cost of round trip tickets from this city to many western summer vacation regions is only from 10 to 25 per cent more than the regular one-way fare.

Plan now to visit the wonderlands of the West via the Union Pacific. New descriptive booklets are ready. Write for those covering the regions you wish to visit. They're free, and give you a world of advance information which you will find valuable.

Among resort regions reached by the Union Pacific System are the following:

The Colorado Rockies
Rocky Mountain Nat'l (East) Park
Zion National Park
Yellowstone National Park
Los Angeles, San Francisco, Yosemite
Portland, Tacoma and Seattle
Puget Sound and Alaska

Reduced fares to California and the Pacific Northwest become effective May 15th, to Colorado, Utah and Yellowstone, June 1st. All return limits, October 31st.

UNION PACIFIC SYSTEM

For time tables, specific fares and booklets "Colorado's Mountain Playgrounds," "Rocky Mountain National Park," "Yellowstone National Park," "California Calls You," "The Pacific Northwest and Alaska," and "Utah and Idaho Outings," write to:

W. C. Miller
Union Pacific System
1212 Broadway Bldg.
Denver, Colo. 1710
Atlanta, Ga.

High School Girls' Work In Whitehall Street Window

How many Atlanta people know that pupils of the Girls' High school are learning to make at school their own dresses, hats and underwear and these of such excellent style and workmanship, that these clothes compare with the ready-to-wear stock in the Whitehall street stores. All patriotic Atlanta will be interested in the display in one of the big windows of Chamberlain-Johnson-DuBois company on Whitehall street today, which will show the work of the home economics department of the Girls' High school. Several classes in the making of clothes, several taffeta dresses and hats made by the advanced students, and underclothing which is the work of the elementary classes, will be included. Another feature will be a dress cape and hat made by the high school girls for a child in the Home of the Friendless. Posters will also tell in graphic style some of the problems worked out in the theory cases. These posters will show that the pupils not only learn sewing, but the selection of clothes in their relation to health, economy and beauty. They study the principles underlying appropriate dress for school and other occasions. They study textiles as to their properties and uses, these including cotton, linen, silk and wool. The care and repair of clothes is another important and essential line of their work. Miss Clara Lee Cone is head of the home economics department in which there are five teachers and 475 girls.

Delta Tau Delta Fraternity Will Give Elaborate Dance

An elaborate social event of the spring season will be the dance May 12, at which the members of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity of the Georgia School of Technology will entertain at one of the social clubs. The guests will include several hundred members of the college and younger social acquaintances and the occasion will be one of the most elaborate affairs during the month of May. The members of the active chapter are: S. S. Simpson, G. F. Hoffman, C. Y. Thompson, G. Waldrop, H. R. Roberts, M. C. Vardery, T. I. Campbell, R. J. Snellings, H. Howell, G. F. Downman, E. C. Walthead, D. C. Hiscok, C. Pearson, Jr., P. S. Paul, W. T. McWhorter, D. Robertson, W. A. Thompson, J. O. Corwin, E. B. Dodd, L. E. Gates, Lloyd H. Tull, J. S. Burkett, C. W. Cheatham, D. J. Fowler, D. B. Howe, J. H. Page and William Goldsmith.

Children to Plant Roses On Road of Remembrance

School children of Atlanta will begin today their part in making a road of remembrance of the Bankhead highway within Fulton county. At 3 o'clock they will go out with school pennants flying and their own bands playing and will plant Cherokee roses, Georgia's state flower, on the high embankments which mark the approach to the Mason and Turner road bridge at the river. Tree planting has already been started at this point, where the Bankhead highway enters the county, but at the spot where a deep fill gives no place for trees, the roses will climb over the banks, and the bridge itself will be hung with wistaria. The planting today will be done as a part of the work of the Fulton county committee, Georgia commission, Bankhead highway, of which committee Mrs. R. K. Rambo is chairman, with the Parent-Teacher committee, Mrs. Frank McCormack, chairman, and Mrs. Murray Hubbard, vice chairman, in charge. These ladies are inviting all the school children who can possibly attend to take part, and music will be furnished by the bands of Boys' High, Tech High and Commercial High. All the children, too, will sing. Later it is planned when the weather is warmer, to have a picnic at the bridge, and to have the planting and cultivate the new growth.

Club Presidents of Fifth Will Meet Here Thursday

Mrs. T. T. Stevens, president of the Fifth District Federation of Women's Clubs, has called a meeting of the presidents of all the federated clubs in the district for Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in Edison hall. Matters vitally important to all clubwomen of the section will be considered; these being related to local, state and national club work.

Briarcliff Club Entertains. The Briarcliff club entertained friends at a dance Saturday evening at the home of Miss Mary Moritz, 261 East Tenth street. Dancing was enjoyed from 9 until 12 o'clock. Among those present were Misses Mary Moritz, Ruth Hughes, Sophie Horne, Genevieve Connell, Evelyn Donehue, Caroline Coles, Josephine Davis, Edna Chevenings, Margaret Parker, Mary Ellis Smith, Mildred Vinson, Dorothy Havis, Katherine Johnson, Susan Cleveland, Miss Baker, Misses Della Livingston, of Breunau; Martha Hearn, Isabel Hunter, Laura Pearce, Ruth McMillen, Wilhelmina Kean, Betsy Binford, Katie Binford, Dorothy Stiff and others.

Basketball Team To Be Entertained. The Capitol avenue basketball team of the past season will be given a stag banquet at the home of Ira H. McCoy, on the evening of April 4, at 8 o'clock. Speeches will be made by various members of the team. Jim Neal will act as toastmaster. Plans for next season's basketball team will be discussed. Capitol avenue had a successful season in basketball, having finished in second place in the Intermediate league. The members of the team are as follows: Frank Newborn, captain, guard; Allan Randolph, forward; Emmett Morris, forward; Serano Parkman, forward; Everett Newborn, center; Orrin Barber, center; Charles Barber, guard; Bob Randolph, center, and Jack Estes, guard.

Birthday Party Is Celebrated. Little Miss Marion Mobley celebrated her fifth birthday yesterday afternoon at a costume party at her home on Orme circle, and was assisted by her mother, Mrs. R. H. Mobley and her sister, Miss Marion. The table had for the centerpiece a basket of yellow jonquils and white Easter lilies. At each little guest's place were Easter baskets filled with varicolored Easter eggs and at the honor guest's place was a white birthday cake lighted by five yellow candles. The little hostess wore a costume of yellow crepe paper, decorated with ribbons. The guests wore costumes suggestive of the Easter season and included Elizabeth Jones, Lois Hunter, Harry Schlesinger, Charlotte Selman, Thelma Selman, Williamson Smith, Lucie Willis, Elizabeth Hunter, Evelyn Longino, O. C. Long, Hayden Jones, Ben Musser, Hugh Cordova, J. Van Rogers, Mascot Shantzen.

Dance to Be Given. Misses Edna and Dorothy Raine will entertain at a dancing party Friday evening at the Club de Vingt.

Prevent Stumbling on Bottom Cellar Step. Haven't you or some other member of the family often slipped on the bottom cellar step? Perhaps for this reason you fear to go down at night. A very simple way to overcome this nuisance is to paint the bottom step white. You will then be able to see it readily even when there is no light.

THE HOUSEWIFE. (Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

White crepe and black velvet, embroidered in a corner of the kitchen, madeleine of Madeleine.

There have not been many of the magic frocks this season. The world of designers has become so enamored of bright and vibrant colors that they have forgotten for the nonce the smartness that is to be derived from this combination of the two tones that are not colors.

The white section of the frock is of crepe, encrusted with brilliant diamond embroidery at the upper part of the bodice. The back, which forms panels on each side, is of velvet with a repetition of the diamond embroidery at the lower part of the skirt panels. Velvet has been rather sparingly used in the recent collections, and of Miss Powers, Hostess To Smith College Club. Miss Mamie Branch Powers will be hostess this afternoon at her home of Peachtree circle to the Smith College club, of which she is recording secretary.

The club members are Mrs. Archibald Davis, Miss Louise Cramer, Miss Margaret Culbertson, Miss Dorothy Fain, Miss Sue Chaffin, Miss Margaret Mitchell, Miss Ethel Wolf, Miss Doris Wyman, Miss Elizabeth Hancock, Miss Eleanor Matson, Mrs. Frank Neely, Mrs. A. H. Blanchard, Mrs. Paul Gaylord and Mrs. Charles E. Robertson.

Better Films Committee Meeting. The better films committee of Atlanta, of which Mrs. B. M. Boykin is chairman, will hold its regular monthly meeting in the mahogany room at the Ansley hotel Thursday, March 29, at 12:30 o'clock. A full attendance is urged.

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND A FREE LECTURE—ON—CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—BY—CLARENCE W. CHADWICK, C. S. E., Of Omaha, Nebraska. Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, PEACHTREE AND FIFTEENTH STREETS. Tuesday Evening, March 28, at 8 O'Clock. There will be Extra Street Cars waiting for the lecture.

Who's Who in the Story.

Jeane (Jane) Darc, beautiful, clever, but poor, resolves to state everything to achieve a wealthy marriage, and after raising all the money she can through mortgages, savings and borrowings, aided unwittingly by her father-in-law, she is able to secure a handsome suit for her husband, comes to New York and establishes herself as a woman of wealth and fashion at one of the smartest hotels, where she meets Richard Canby, wealthy banker and man about town, who is attracted by her beauty, and introduces her into his set, in which are Adele Parkinson, a young widow and former flame of Canby's, who betrays Jeane, and Victor Barstowe, young, handsome, debonaire, only son of a multimillionaire, whom Jeane marries as her mother. He is instantly attracted, though he is considered engaged to Vera Dayton, a childhood acquaintance, whom his family favors.

The family objects to Jeane, because she is without credentials, but she, indulging in one mad extravagance after another, despite the fact that Harrison has given her his last cent in savings, and taken her worthless property in exchange, wins them over, and is married to Barstowe. After a honeymoon spent on the Hawaiian isle, she returns to face her numerous creditors, only to find that her husband is not the heir to the fortune she had dreamed of. Her creditors have become impatient, and her modest income is not sufficient to meet the bills for her tasteless life.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

Jeane, in a letter, though not without the knowledge of her father-in-law's secretary, Adele Parkinson, loses all her money in a stock venture, and when she is unable to repay a loan she had made before her marriage, Jeane, desperate, appeals to her father-in-law for help. He, in return, pays a hateful price. Quite unexpectedly one day a messenger brings her a check for the jewel case that Bonnotelli, the violinist, had given her for a wedding present. She is told that the violinist had been killed by a mob, and that she had been the only survivor.

AT WOMAN'S WINDOW BY W. L. GEORGE

IS SHE HER HUSBAND'S SHOP-WINDOW?

An unkind critic once said that a woman was her husband's shop-window. By that brutal remark he conveyed that many a man will buy his wife more expensive clothes than he can afford, so that his neighbors may be assured that he is doing well. It may be so, and I do not suppose that any wife will complain when she is turned into an advertisement hoarding, but she can do more than assume the passive role of a lay-figure.

Some men are made by their mothers and married by their wives; the wives can, if they choose, do better than mar their husbands' careers. They need not go about proclaiming that Jim is a wonderful salesman or that Tom has but to look at his patient to cure them. The process of helping a husband is subtler than that: the wife should convey a picture of comfortable domesticity, never complain to others of her husband's temper, his slowness, his indifference of ideas, if such is the unfortunate case; on the other hand, it is always possible for a woman to let fall casually that their husband has lifted the mortgage on his house, that he has just patented an invention, or that the president of the corporation has taken him into the head office. All this spreads, and with it the idea that the husband is doing well. If she boasts, she is lost, for people disbelieve her. It is a matter of tact, and many women are clever enough to get themselves asked the questions they like to answer.

DRESS BY ANNE RITTENHOUSE

The New Girdle Is Drawn Snugly, Showing the Line From Hips to Waistline.

The mode of the long, loose blouse that hung straight from the shoulder to the confines of a girde placed at the widest part of the hips has one decided and distinct disadvantage. And that is, that it produces the illusion of great width. And no woman is content to look wide, no matter what the mode.

For the woman of thin hips and more than average height this disadvantage is not so annoying. She is slender enough to stand it. And to the woman who has allowed ease and a good table to conceal any slenderness of waist with nature may have endowed her it seems eminently satisfactory. She has no tapering lines to show anyway.

For the rest there is advantage to be gained in the tendency displayed frequently in the clothes that come from the good designers here and in France to make the long blouse more clinging. Sometimes it is cut so that it forms horizontal wrinkles about the hip girdle, and occasionally the girde extends from a line low on the hips up to the waistline. Instead of being straight it is swathed about the body. Thus the tapering line between waist and hips is well defined.

Madeline of Madeleine makes use of the tightly swathed wide girde in the evening frock shown in the sketch—a frock that is interesting also as an example of the use of black and "EATING IN THE KITCHEN." The distinct prejudice that has wound itself around the practice of eating in the kitchen sprang up very, very poor, indeed, from different things from the up-to-date kitchens of today.

The so-and-so are nice enough people to meet, you may have said, but just fancy, they eat in the kitchen! That was enough to suggest that they were very careless or very, very poor, indeed.

"Mr. Brown was raised in the country," might be another comment. "Honest people, but they ate in the kitchen." Poor Mr. Brown, it is quite a handicap to have been brought up that way!

Now there are plenty of people who eat in the dining room where meals are prepared quite out of preference. There are many city apartments where housework simplifies itself immensely if breakfast and possibly luncheon can be eaten in the kitchen. If there are three rooms and a kitchen it is certainly better to have two bedrooms and a sitting room than a kitchen with a dining room. At least many persons think so. It is always possible to serve a meal in the sitting room, but it is tiresome to have the dining room sit in a room furnished and set forth as a dining room.

Then there are country houses where breakfasts and all simple meals are eaten in a corner of the kitchen. Some summer cottages are made with the eating table in the kitchen because this saves time in preparing and clearing up meals.

To make this more attractive the stores are showing all sorts of attractive kitchen furniture. A kitchen possibly trimmed with a line of bright blue is a very pleasant place to eat. Sometimes there is a white refrigerator and a white enamel gas stove, and there are white Swiss curtains at the windows with valances and side panels of checked blue and white gingham. The drop leaf table is opened wide for meals and spread with blue and white runners, set with blue and white dishes and decorated with a vase containing a yellow daffodil or two, and the scene is laid for a meal that may be eaten with as much appetite as in any old-time dining room.

Miss Powers, Hostess To Smith College Club. Miss Mamie Branch Powers will be hostess this afternoon at her home of Peachtree circle to the Smith College club, of which she is recording secretary.

The club members are Mrs. Archibald Davis, Miss Louise Cramer, Miss Margaret Culbertson, Miss Dorothy Fain, Miss Sue Chaffin, Miss Margaret Mitchell, Miss Ethel Wolf, Miss Doris Wyman, Miss Elizabeth Hancock, Miss Eleanor Matson, Mrs. Frank Neely, Mrs. A. H. Blanchard, Mrs. Paul Gaylord and Mrs. Charles E. Robertson.

Better Films Committee Meeting. The better films committee of Atlanta, of which Mrs. B. M. Boykin is chairman, will hold its regular monthly meeting in the mahogany room at the Ansley hotel Thursday, March 29, at 12:30 o'clock. A full attendance is urged.

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND A FREE LECTURE—ON—CHRISTIAN SCIENCE—BY—CLARENCE W. CHADWICK, C. S. E., Of Omaha, Nebraska. Member of the Board of Lecturers of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, PEACHTREE AND FIFTEENTH STREETS. Tuesday Evening, March 28, at 8 O'Clock. There will be Extra Street Cars waiting for the lecture.

THE HOUSEWIFE'S Idea Box

He goes easily and unerringly where he will. Nature has developed Gray Gooses for international travel.

272 PEACHTREE STREET

WILLS SAINT CLAIRE

Motor Cars

He goes easily and unerringly where he will. Nature has developed Gray Gooses for international travel.

Georgia Woman Has Record Of 45 Years of Service

MRS. ANNA I. CARTER.

Mrs. Anna I. Carter, of Social Circle, Ga., is manager and chief operator of the telephone exchange at Social Circle, which position she has held for forty-five years consecutively. On January 1, this year, she completed her forty-fifth year, and received from the company a service pin, and from the company president a letter of congratulations.

When Mrs. Carter assumed the management of the telephone work at Social Circle, there were only two phones in the town. Now there are nearly 200. Not only has she been successful in developing the telephone business in her town, but she has been a great factor in the development of the town in every way. She is most highly esteemed by her fellow-citizens, who appreciate the unusual distinction that has come to her.

The Constitution's Patterns

A SPLENDID HOUSE DRESS FOR MATURE FIGURES.

Pattern 3656 is here illustrated. It is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38-inch size will require five yards of 36-inch material. The width of the skirt at the foot is two yards.

Gingham, chambray, figured percale, poplin, repp, linen and calico may be used for this model. The sleeve may be finished in wrist or elbow length.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A GOOD BOMBERS STYLE.

3882. The way to be comfortable in play is to be attired in a garment of this kind. It may be fashioned from gingham or percale. This interesting model has outstanding pockets that will hold attractions for any youngster.

The pattern is cut in four sizes: 1, 2, 3 and 4 years. A 2-year size requires 3 1/2 yards of 27-inch material. For very young children, the inner seam edges on the bloomers pattern may be finished to close with buttons and buttonholes.

A pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A SMART APRON DRESS FOR HOUSE OR GARDEN WEAR.

3909. For any may think of this apron which may well be classed as a dress, or in pretty cretonne or prints, to wear out among the flowers. In black satens with a decoration in colors it makes a pretty home frock.

This pattern is cut in four sizes: small, 34-38; medium, 36-40; large, 42-44 and extra large, 46-48 inches

Harmless Means of Reducing Fat

Many fat people find out that the only way to reduce their weight is by an extraordinary method. Extraordinary because it is perfectly harmless, no dieting or exercise are necessary. Marmosa Prescription Tablets are made exactly in accordance with the famous Marmosa Prescription to reduce steadily and easily, with no ill effects. Prevent them from your druggist, or send for a case or send price direct to Marmosa Company, 113 Woodward Street, Detroit, Mich.—(adv.)

COLORS MUST BLEND—SO FASHION DECRIES

Recently style and sensibility put their heads together and the result was knee length bloomers in dark shades to wear under the spring tulle. This length, you know, has formerly come only in pastel tints.

Will Give Lecture Wednesday Night For Theatre Guild

An illustrated lecture on dramatic technique by Mrs. William C. Spiker will feature the program which the Little Theatre Guild will present Wednesday evening at Steinway hall, Phillips & Crew, at 8:15 o'clock. Mrs. Spiker is a well-known teacher of interpretive dancing and dramatic art, her work exemplified in the success attained by a number of her pupils who have appeared in New York productions. She will discuss stage poise and correct posture. Her talks will be illustrated by a number of her pupils. Mrs. Spiker is a member of the Little Theatre Guild.

At the request of the governing board, Marion Dabney, another guild member and a pupil of Mrs. Spiker, who appeared as an Oriental dancer in the recent production of the Little Theatre Guild, "Ruby Red," arranged the program for Wednesday evening, which will include also a musical program of merit.

Dance for Members of Rabun Club.

An enjoyable event to the many friends and members of the Rabun club, of Oakland City, was an informal dance given at the club Friday evening.

The chaperons of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Upchurch, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cohen and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hudson.

Among those seen dancing were Mrs. Lloyd Bellamy, Mrs. Barnes Johnson, Miss Marcel Morgan, Miss Nell Bell, Miss Evelyn Withers, Miss Mary McGinnis, Miss Rosebud Morgan, Ben Cochran, T. M. Roberts, John B. Roberts, L. H. Bell, Ben Burton, John Harrison, R. E. Callahan, Fain Abbott, Eugene Burke and others.

Concert to Be Given.

An "Old Folks" concert will be given at the Inman Park Methodist church, Thursday evening, March 30, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the woman's auxiliary of the church, for the benefit of the building fund for the new Sunday school annex.

A cordial invitation is extended the public, and the admission will be 25 and 50 cents.

Mrs. Florence Candler Harris is chairman of the concert committee.

No, Jack, I Can Never Marry You

THEY were hard words—but she had to say them. For she knew that she never could marry a man with an offensive breath. Yet until she discovered it, and found that it was constantly the same, she thought that she loved him madly.

No one could blame her, for any woman with keen sensibilities would have done the same thing. Think of how their happiness would have been spared had they only known how easy it was to overcome this disagreeable ailment. Steroline, used morning and evening, overcomes most cases of bad breath like magic. Steroline is a highly antiseptic liquid mouthwash, yet pleasant and mild to the taste. Fine as a gargle for sore throat or tonsillitis. Don't let unpleasant breath destroy your happiness. Get Steroline today. All druggists sell it for 50 cents.

GIRL HAD PAINFUL TIMES

Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and would often have to lie down because of pains. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said to me, 'Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and get well.' It is doing me good and I praise it highly. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."—SYDNEY NEWTON, R. R. 2, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure her.

A Wife on Leave

CHAPTER XXXVIII.
A Silver Lining.
To Barbara the evening dragged on leaden feet. Ordinarily she would have rejoiced in the perfect appointments of this beautiful home, studying its details, storing away in her mind various little points that she would try to reproduce later at We-acre. But now she was oblivious to everything but the fact that Graham Browne was as taken up with Sally as she had feared he would be. All through dinner he talked earnestly with her; only when Sally turned to the man on her left did he murmur conventional banalities to Barbara, who was at his other side. She yearned to do something startling, to grip his attention so forcefully that he could not turn away. But there was nothing she could do with Sally's provocative beauty so close to him, and when they were obviously so interested in each other.

Gilbert Asks Sally to Play With Him

Sally had expected that if she ever saw him again, Brown would at least imply his disapproval of her running away, blaming her for trying to evade the consequences which the others had remained to face. It was a relief to find him lenient, sympathetic.

"Who wants to play golf tomorrow morning?" John Randall's hearty voice cut through the murmur of talk that went on about the table. "There's a good course here at the club, and I know that some of you are golf men about it?" Barbara's heart leaped. Andy had played a good game of golf before they were married, and had kept in practice. She looked at him appealingly.

Just Received
A complete line of the famous Grover Soft Shoes in numerous styles for street and comfort wear.

Grover Soft Black Kid 2-strap for comfort or street wear, priced exceedingly low, only $4.50

Grover's "Lady Constance" Blucher Oxford in soft Black Kid, with rubber heels, priced $6.50

Grover's "Prince Albert," made of soft Black Kid, very flexible sole and low, flat heel, priced at $4.50

Grover's "Sista Alma"

A Seamless Comfort Shoe which is worn all-year-round, priced at, per pair $6.50

Prompt Mail Order Service

Stewart

ing. Surely this was a good opportunity to get to know Graham Browne more intimately than he could hope to otherwise! And their stay at the Randells' was to be so short—only until Sunday, and this was Friday evening!

"Oh, I'd love to play!" cried Sally. Barbara winced. Of course she would—that was like Sally. "Who'll play with me?"

And of course Graham Browne instantly replied: "Take me on. I'm swinging a mean masher myself."

Where she got the courage Barbara did not know; she only realized that Andy must somehow get into this—he must take advantage of this chance to know Browne, or he'd never get anywhere! Her voice shook a little, and her hands were so tightly clenched that they hurt, as she said nonchalantly enough: "What about that old match that you and Andy are always arguing about, Sally? Isn't this a good time to settle it once and for all?"

Sally leaned around Graham Browne to face her, and Andy stared unbelievably. His mild little wife had interfered with the plans of the great Graham Browne! Unbelievable!

"Oh, it would be just the time," Sally was saying. "You see, Andy and I played eight holes long ago, and then had to stop because of rain," she explained to Browne. "And I've always been sure that if we'd played the full eighteen I'd have won the match and let—well, he's just as sure of himself. So I'm going to accept Andy's suggestion—you don't mind, do you?"

Obviously he did mind. His brow puckered slightly, and "Barbara quaked. She had irritated him so that he'd never want to hear of Andy again! Well, it was better to make a mistake than to do nothing at all!"

"Oh, I can't cut in on your plans this way," Andy was protesting. Barbara scowled at him—that was like him, always effacing himself, rather than inconvenience somebody else! "You and I can settle things some other time, Sally."

"No, have it out now," urged Browne. And then the little girl of luck settled for a moment on Barbara's shoulder, and joy sang in her heart as he went on—"Or no—can't you make it a mixed foursome and let me in? Perhaps Mrs. Lane would play with us—how about it?" And he turned pleasantly to Barbara.

VEILS VIE WITH FROCKS IN VARIETY OF COLORS

With a grand total of fifty-six new shades on spring's official color card, veils, always eager to do the smart thing could scarcely be expected to confine themselves to a mere seven or eight colors, so to get them all in they have doubled up and the very newest veils are black with red scroll embroidery, henna on blue, Copenhagen on gray and orange on brown.

"Oh—I—" the warm color flooded her face, as her mind flew to the various possibilities. She had played well enough in the old days—she had a good eye, her aim had been good, and though she never drove very far, her shots always told. And she'd have Andy to help her out.

"I will," she told him, her eyes radiant. "You and Sally against Andy and me—is that a go?"

"It is," he answered, readily. "And look out, young fellow—I may be gray on the temples, but then, golf's an old man's game!"

Barbara wanted to leap and shout for joy. His voice had been so friendly, he seemed so kind. And her plan had succeeded, this far at least. A whole long morning on the links—anything might happen!

And so it came about that the next morning they crossed the country club porch together. Barbara as charming in her simple little sweater and home-made sports skirt as was Sally in her expensive golf togs. And so it happened, too, that Sally, turning back into the clubhouse for a handkerchief that she had left in her locker, came face to face with Keith Gilbert.

Dr. Engelhardt to Speak

To Hill Street P-T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Hill Street school P-T. A. will be held Tuesday evening, March 28, at 7:30 o'clock at the school. Dr. Engelhardt, of Columbia university, will be the principal speaker. A large attendance is urged.

Tomorrow—New Danger Threatens.

(Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution.)

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS.

T. D.—At the custom house you can get full particulars regarding this restriction on importing birds of paradise.

Mildred—Enlarged ankles are often caused by wearing high French heels, or any other heel that throws the foot out of its natural position.

Florence—Your finger nails will grow faster if you keep the skin from growing up around the nail. This tightening of the skin on the nails prevents as a free circulation as there is when nails are cared for properly.

Lora—You can break yourself of making these lines in your forehead if you can remind yourself of it, until you counteract that tendency. This can be done effectively by first smoothing out the lines with the finger tips and then stretching a piece of court plaster over the place. You will not notice the plaster unless you start to frown, when there will be an unpleasant tug at the skin which brings to mind that you are offending.

Reader—Any portion of the body can be reduced through persistent massage.

Alice—An excessive amount of perspiration at any part of the body may be partially arrested by astringent treatments. If it is under the arms follow the bath by rubbing into the skin a powder that has astringent properties. Any powder may be made to do this if a small amount of salicylic acid is added to it. Your druggist will do this for you.

Eleanor—The vaseline you mention is a trade preparation and not what is known as red vaseline. Any vaseline in which there is red pepper would be used to relieve pain much the same as a liniment or a mustard plaster.

"Prices realized on Swift & Company sales of carcass beef in Atlanta, Ga., for week ending Saturday, March 25, 1922, on shipments sold out, ranged from 11 cents to 17 cents per pound and averaged 14 cents per pound."—(adv.)

CLOSING OUT SALE

We have sold our lease and must vacate May 1st. From this date until that time we are going to sell our entire stock

AT A DISCOUNT OF

33 1/3% Cash

Nothing Reserved

WATCH OUR WINDOWS FOR BARGAINS

Each day until we vacate we will place a number of desirable articles in our show windows at ONE-HALF the regular price for that day only.

Fixtures for Sale

EUGENE V. HAYNES CO.

Jewelry 73 Peachtree St.

WHICH PRIZE WILL IT BE

$2,000.00

OR ONLY $50.00

IT'S UP TO YOU TO DECIDE--NOW

HOW TO WIN $2,000 BIG CASH PRIZES

You can win $50.00 without sending a subscription, but if you want to win $2,000.00 or another large prize, read the following:

If you send one six-month subscription to The Daily and Sunday Constitution at $5.00 and win first prize, you will receive $500.00 instead of only $50.00. (Read second column in prize list.)

YOUR BIG OPPORTUNITY is made possible by sending two six-month subscriptions at $5.00 each or one yearly subscription at $9.50 to The Daily and Sunday Constitution, then if you win first prize your reward will be $2,000.00. (Read last column of prize list.)

Either new, renewal or subscriptions to start at any future date can be accepted.

Daily and Sunday

Subscription Rates

Payable in Advance.

(By Mail, Carrier or Agent)

Six Months $5.00

One Year $9.50

Only regular subscriptions at the above rate can count to qualify in the prize game.

THE ABOVE SUBSCRIPTIONS ARE TO BE CREDITED TO:

Notice—In sending remittances, use checks, money orders, or bank drafts payable to The Atlanta Constitution, and not to individuals.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

SATURDAY,

APRIL 1,

LAST

DAY TO

SEND YOUR

QUALIFY-

ING SUB-

SCRIPTIONS

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

State New or Renewal.

The Constitution's Novel-a-Week

Peter the Brazen

By George F. Wortz

(Copyright, 1922, for The Constitution)

Next Week: "The Crimson Blotter," by Isabel Ostrander

(Continued from Yesterday)

CHAPTER II.

When Peter snapped off the switch he walked to the rail which overhung the cargo-well. As he grew more accustomed to the darkness, he became aware of a small figure crouching on the hatch-cover near the starboard rail. He studied this intently, and at length he made out the Chinese girl who had stared at him in such bewitching fashion a little earlier in the day. She was smiling archly at him; and she inclined her head. She was beckoning? It seemed so, indeed. Peter forthwith descended the companion-ladder to the well, and crossed to her side. She motioned him to be seated. He squatted, Chinese fashion, and she took a deep sighing breath, holding out her hands with a quick gesture. Across her wrists was a strip of heavy, deep-blue silk. All down its length were stitched small, round dots of dark red. Peter knew this for a sarong, an ornamental wrist sash, affected by most Japanese gentlemen. While he hesitated, she laid this in his lap with a shy impetuosity.

"It is yours, sir," she informed Peter in English of a very strange mold. "I made it for you."

"Well, that is fine," he said. "And how much do I owe you small one?"

"It is a gift," she informed him. "I am no longer poor, my lord. I can now give gifts. I like you. I give this to you. I am coming a long, long way to visit my grandmother who lives Canton-way. My dear father sells opium. He has grown rich in that trade. When I have seen my grandmother, and given her gifts, I will go home to the south, Macassar-way. And now—"

"And now?" intoned Peter calmly, for even as a life pays for a life, so does a gift pay for a gift.

"And now," went on the maid from Macassar, "tell me but one thing, my lord—is Hongkong safe for such as I?"

"Small one," replied Peter, "in China, such a one as you is as safe as a Japanese starting in a nest of hungry yellow snakes. You will travel by daylight or not at all. In Hongkong you will go aboard a sampan and be loved Kowloon-way, from whence the trains run by the great river to Canton."

"That will be safe, that sampan?"

"I will make it safe, small one. For I will go with you as far as Kowloon. If that is what you wish. Now run along to bed—kaka!" And he clapped his hands as the small figure bobbed out of sight.

As Peter was preparing for sleep in his stateroom, he stooped to recover an object which was almost ready to tumble from the rounded edge of the white berth. A rose? No! A gold chain trickled between his fingers and dangled, swinging from side to side. Romola Borria had been a visitor to his room. But why? No one would break into his stateroom who was not the tool of Len Yang's unknown king.

He searched the room, then dragged his suit case from the bunk to the middle of the blue carpet, and pulled its contents angrily upon the floor. It took him less than ten seconds to discover what was missing. Peter looked again, hoping that the revolver would make its appearance. It was an American revolver, an automatic, a gift from Boris McLauren. And now this excellent weapon was missing.

Snapping off the light, he plunged down the murky corridor, rose cameo slung in his hand, and came at length to Romola Borria's stateroom. At his knock she opened the door. One hand was caught to her throat in a gesture of surprise, and the other was concealed behind her, catching, as Peter surmised, nothing of his own automatic revolver.

"You have come to tell me that you will go to Japan with me," she stated.

Peter shook his head slowly, and with equal deliberation lifted up the small object in his hand until the light from the ceiling lamp fell directly upon it.

"My cameo!" she exclaimed with a start of surprise. "Where did you find it?" She reached impulsively for the ornament, but Peter closed his fingers upon it firmly.

"You have something to give me in return, I think," he said sternly. She stepped back into the room and said: "Close the door. Come inside."

He entered and took more time than was necessary in pulling the door to give her every opportunity to arrange this scene as she desired. She sat down on the edge of her berth, with her small white feet almost touching the floor, and the huge blue automatic resting upon her knees.

"I was afraid," she explained in a voice, low but free in her remarkable self-possession. "I thought you would not care, and I hoped that you would have a revolver in your room. So I went there. I borrowed a pass key from the porter on the plea that I had left my key in my room. I hope you would not miss it until we reached Hong Kong."

"I think I understand," Peter said. "In the morning you will take the other matter over. For the present, I want you to keep the revolver—here is the cameo."

Romola Borria extended the automatic. "I have something else that will do quite as well. Look."

She had drawn back the pillow, and on the white sheet she glimpsed a dangerous-looking dagger. The singular thing about this knife was the shape of the blade, which was thin and with three sides, like a machinist's file. It would be a good dagger to throw away after a killing because of the triangular hole it would leave as a wound a bit of evidence decidedly incriminating. Peter straightened up, round-eyed, accepted the automatic, and approached the door.

"Good night, Mr. Moore, and thank you so much," she murmured. "And I do hope you will forgive me for being a thief."

Peter the Brazen was sleeping the slumber of the worthy, when, at a somewhat later hour in the night, a figure—seen and gray, fitted out in the stateroom, peered in the darkened port-hole, and passed on. Awakened by an instinct developed to a remarkable degree by his training of the past few months, Peter established himself upon one elbow and looked and listened. Quite as intuitively he slipped his hand under the pillow and encountered the reassuring chill of the blue steel. Half withdrawing this excellent weapon, he shifted his eyes, alternately from the door to the port-hole, conscious of an imminent danger. The port-hole looked gray and empty, one edge of it licked by the yellow light of some distant lantern. As he watched, a square of the yellow reflected light was blotted out. As Peter sat up on the edge of his cot, gripping the square butt of the automatic, the origin of the shadow moved slowly into the range of his vision. It was a Maxim silencer attached either at the end of a revolver or of a rifle. As this crept up and over the edge of the port, Peter, with a deliberate and cold smile, raised the automatic revolver, slipped out of the berth with the stealth and liteness of a cat, crept into the corner where the stateroom door was hinged, and leveled the weapon. Slowly the silencer moved inward until the blue end of it was registered precisely upon a point where Peter's head would lie if he were sleeping in a normal attitude. Then a bright red flame spurted from the mouth of the silencer, with no disturbance other than a slight smudge, comparable with the sharp clapping of a man's hands.

Having delivered himself of one shot, the assassin could be depended upon to make casual inquiries, and to drop at least one more bullet into the darkness between the upper and lower berths, to make a clean job of it. Peter waited and soon a small, square head with the hair combed back of a Chinese coolie, was framed by the port-hole. Peter resealed the safety catch and brought pressure to bear upon the trigger. The weapon was out of commission, either unloading or tampered with.

Peter dropped out of range of the deadly port-hole and squatted into the doubtful shelter provided by the closet. Groping about in the darkness with one hand as he loosened the magazine clip on the butt, and finding that the cartridges had been removed, he finally discovered the whereabouts of the suit-case, and dragged it slowly toward him, with his eyes pinned upon the vacant port. Fumbling in the suit-case, his fingers encountered at length a cartridge clip. He slipped this into his pocket, and indulged in a silent grunt of relief.

Then sounds without demanded his attention, the sounds of a tussle. Slipping on his bathrobe, he opened the door and peered out. The deck was deserted. But he made out a lone, dark shape which lay under his port-hole. He dragged him by the heels under the deck-light, and a dark trail spread out upon the boards, and even as Peter examined the cold face, the spot broadened.

Stabbed? More than likely. Passing only long enough to reassure himself that this was the assassin whose square head had been framed by the port, Peter looked for a wound. It was a small wound, running entirely through the neck and of a triangular pattern.

Silently contemplating the stiffening victim of Romola Borria's dagger, Peter heard the rustle of silk garments, and he looked up to see Romola Borria herself. She was speaking in low, impassioned tones.

"I knocked at your door. God! I thought he had killed you!"

She nodded, and drew a low, sobbing breath. "Yes. He tried to shoot you. I saw him pass my window. I was waiting. I knew he would try."

"You know that?"

"Yes. He was the mate of the coolie you threw overboard in Batavia. You know, they always travel in pairs. You didn't know that?"

"No. I don't know. But I could have defended myself easily enough if it had not been for—"

"Your clip of cartridges? I did remove the clip, and in my carelessness I forgot to give them back to you when you left my room."

Peter knocked away her hand, the hand which seemed always to fumble at her throat in moments of strain. He pulled down the black kimono and grazed her under the light. He looked at the soft curve of her chest as white as alabaster, and devoid of angry stripes.

"By God, you are clever!" he scoffed. "Now, Miss Enigma, you spurt out your story, and the true story, or, by heaven, I'll call the skipper! I'll have you put in irons—for murder."

"You forget I saved your life, she said."

"I—!" he stammered, and backed away a step. "Good God!" he exploded. "Then explain this."

"I will explain what I am able to," she said in a small, direct voice. "I took the clip from the revolver because—because I didn't want you to shoot me. I know your methods far better than you seem to; and I knew I could handle this coolie myself far better than you could; and I wanted to run no risk of being shot myself in attending to him. If you must know, I used rouge for the scars. But there are scars on my body, on my back and my legs. And I killed this man because—because I hate you."

Had she cut him with a whip, Peter could not have felt more hurt, more humiliated, more ashamed, for gratitude was far from being a stranger to him. He half extended his arms in mute apology, and surprised, he found her lips curving his warm arms about his neck. He kissed her—once—and put her away from him.

Before returning to his room Peter dropped the body of the coolie overboard and cleaned the stains from the deck.

The first message that Peter took the next morning was a service message, directed to Peter Moore, "broken by aboard the steamer Persian Gulf, at sea."

The context of this greeting was that Peter should report directly upon his arrival in Hong Kong to J. B. Whalen, representative of the Macaroni company. Some wireless operator obviously had recognized Peter's touch on the key, and thus located him.

Then the operator at Manila broke in: "You're going to be pinched as soon as you land in Hong Kong for deserting your ship at Shanghai. That's a secret, for old friendship's sake."

CHAPTER III.

When Peter emerged from the wireless room he found Romola Borria with elbows on the rail and a look of concern.

"You look troubled," she said, as her smile was replaced by a look of tender concern. "What is it?"

"I am discovered," Miss Borria. Peter Moore is not popular with the authorities for deserting a certain ship in Shanghai."

"The Vandalia?" said the girl, and suddenly bit her lips.

"Miss Borria," he remarked, stiffly. "I told you last night you're clever; and now you've given me just one more reason to stick to my guns: one more reason to believe that you know more than you're supposed to know. Now, let's be perfectly frank—for once. Won't you please tell me just what you do know about my activities?"

The girl pursed her lips and a hard twinkle came into her eyes. "Yes, Mr. Moore," she said vigorously. "I will. But you must promise faith."

"I will. But you must promise faith."

"I will. But you must promise faith."

"I will. But you must promise faith."

"I will. But you must promise faith."

"I will. But you must promise faith."

HELLO ANDY—
HELLO AUNTIE HENRIETTA—
HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR NEW AUNTIE?
HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR NEW NEPHEW? I'LL BET YOU'VE NEVER MARRIED THE OLD BIRD IF IT HADN'T BEEN FOR ME. YOU JUST GRABBED HIM SO YOU WOULD GET ME FOR YOUR NEPHEW—THAT'S ALL—
WHEN YOU GET IN YOUR CASTLE IN AUSTRALIA DON'T TELEGRAPH ME AN INVITATION TO VISIT YOU—YOU KNOW IT'S PRETTY HARD FOR ME TO GET AWAY—AND BESIDES WE COULDN'T STAY OVER A MONTH AT A TIME—
AND WHEN I VISIT YOU PROMISE THAT YOU WON'T WHITE WASH THE CASTLE AND EVERYTHING—JUST BECAUSE I'M COMING—ANYTHING THAT'S GOOD ENOUGH FOR UNCLE SAM AND YOURSELF IS GOOD ENOUGH FOR ME—AND DON'T YOU DARE TO PUT ON AN APRON AND GO INTO THE KITCHEN AND COOK FOR ME—

SOMEBODY'S STENOG—So Has the Boss!

MARY THAT $10,000 IS BURNING A HOLE IN MY STOCKING WHEN I CAME INTO MY FORTUNE I THOUGHT I'D LAY LOW AN' SAVE IT BUT HONEST I GOT TO FIND SOMEWAY OF GIVIN' IT AIR AN EXERCISE!
I GUESS YOU'RE RIGHT, MAME! I BETTER USE IT WHILE I CAN, WHAT WITH MOM PECKING AT IT FOR THE MILKMAK EVERY WEEK THERE WON'T BE MUCH LEFT WELL I'M GOING TO LUNCH.
THERE, I'VE GOT ALL THE BEST LITERATURE I CAN FIND ON THE SUBJECT!
AH THAT SOUNDS GOOD. WISE GIRL! GOOD READIN' NEVER HURT NOBODY!
LOOK AT THIS 'SPONY' ROADSTER! SPORTY ILL SAY! THEY CLAIM IT'S GOT ENDURANCE.
IT'S GOT NUTHIN' ON ME.

MINUTE MOVIES

ED. WHEELAN presents THE SEASON'S MOST DRAMATIC FILM DOUBT featuring RALPH M'NEER...
WHEN IN DOUBT, MY BOY, ALWAYS GIVE THEM THAT ADVICE!
DR. CHARLES ASPIRIN, WHO IS ABOUT TO TAKE OVER HIS FATHER'S PRACTICE.
MR. RALPH M'NEER
CHARLES, THIS IS MISS CALOMEL, MY ASSISTANT.
HOW DO YOU DO?
I'M NOT MUCH OF A DOCTOR, MISS, BUT I GUESS I'LL GET BY WITH A LITTLE LUCK!
I'LL HELP YOU ALL I CAN, SIR!

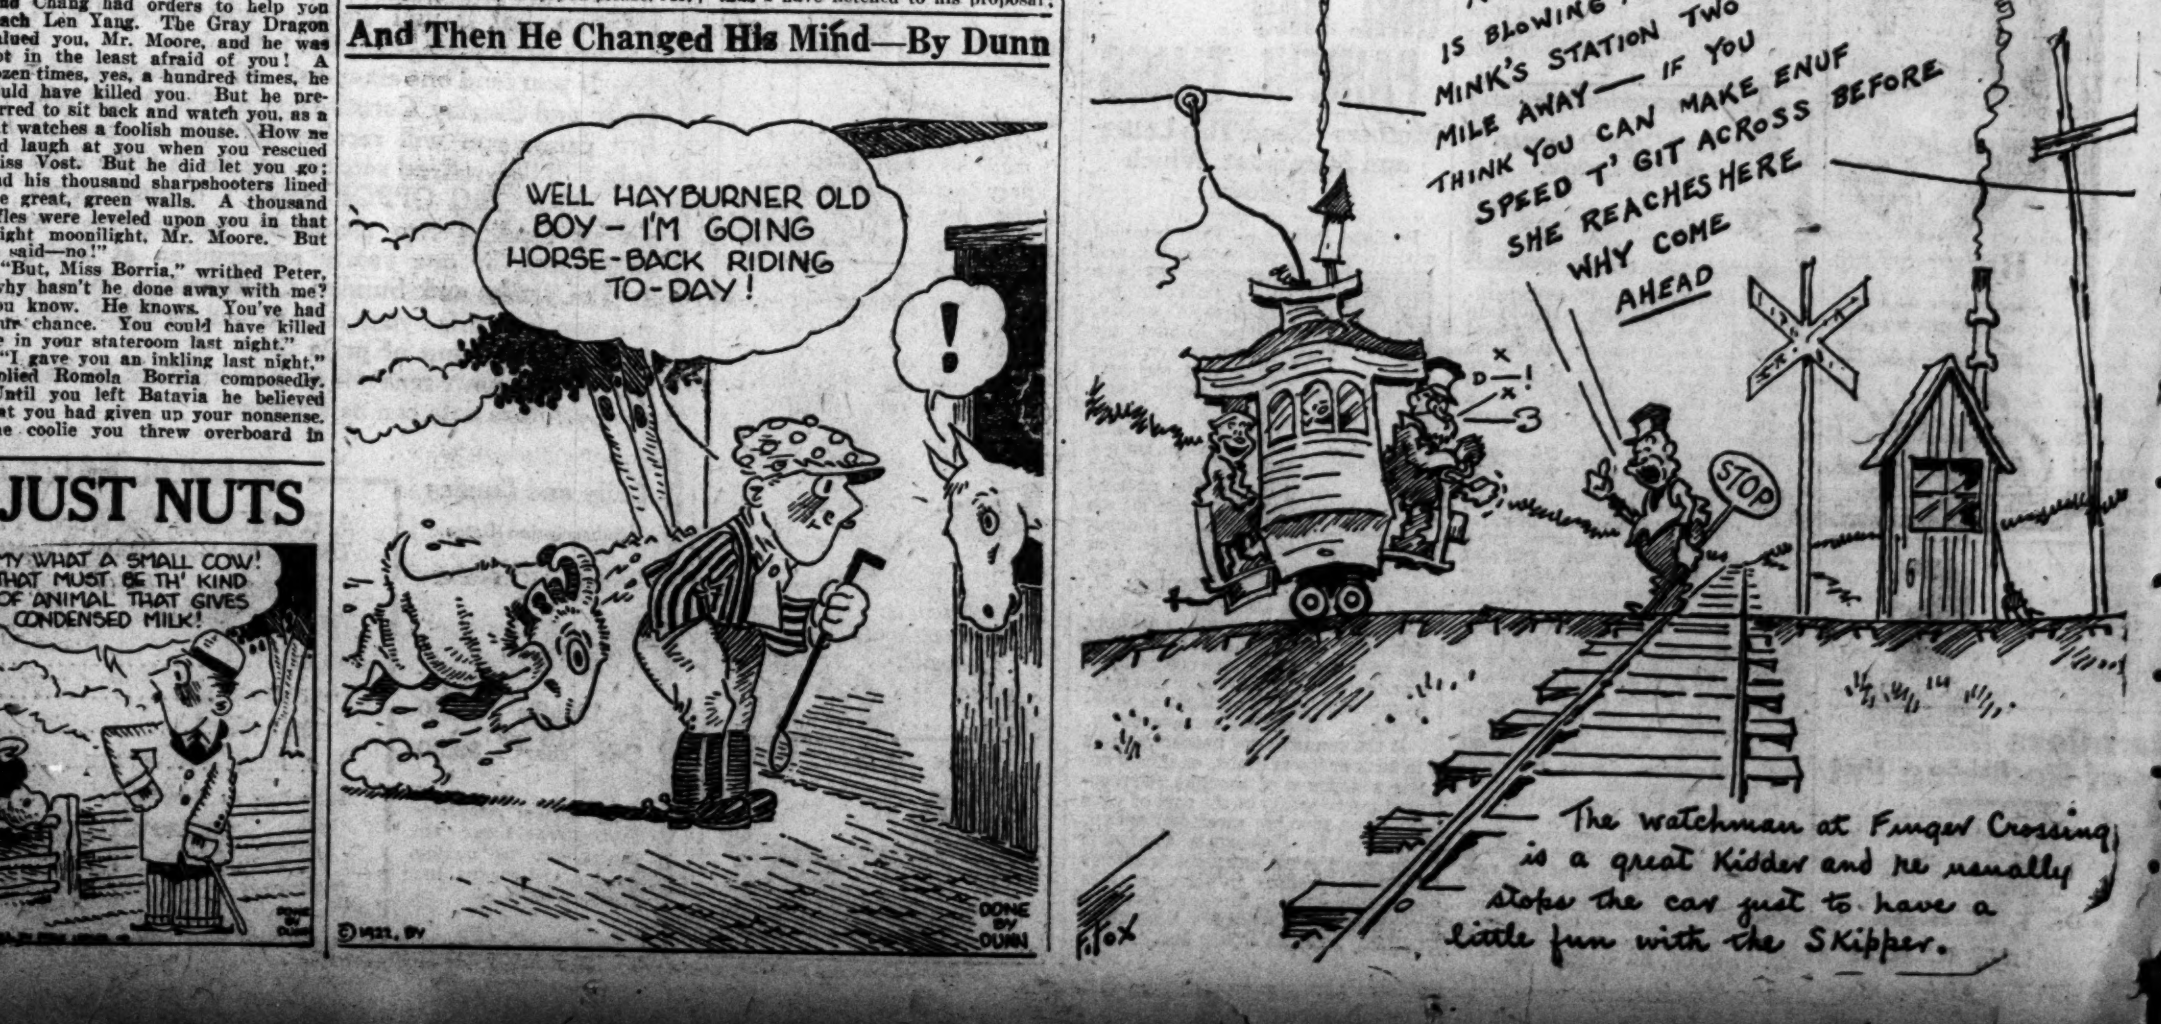

THE FIRST PATIENT
NOW SAY "AH-H!"
GOSH, I DON'T KNOW WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS BIRD!
WELL, GIVE HIM THE ADVICE YOUR FATHER SPOKE OF!
MY FRIEND, YOU ARE ALL RUN DOWN! WHAT YOU NEED IS EXERCISE—TAKE LONG WALKS—PLENTY OF FRESH AIR—STAY OUTDOORS AS MUCH AS YOUR BUSINESS WILL PERMIT.
BY THE WAY—WHAT DO YOU DO?
I'M A POSTMAN!
POP!
THE END

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER
Housewives, Take Notice
WELL, I'VE LEFT MY POSITION, ORDERED THE INVITATIONS ENGRAVED AND I'M HAVING A WONDERFUL WEDDING CAKE BAKED SPECIAL!! OH PAT, I'M SO HAPPY!!!
AN' MAYBE YA DON'T THINK I'M HAPPY TO BE YER BRIDES MAID, WINNIE!
HOW DO YA THINK YOU'LL MANAGE WITH COOKIN' AN' SEWIN' AN' RUNNIN' A HOUSE AFTER YOU'RE MARRIED?
I CAN COOK AND SEW FAIRLY WELL, AND I GUESS I CAN MANAGE A HOUSE ALL RIGHT!
S' TOO BAD YA DIDN'T GO TO COLLEGE, WINNIE! NOW-A-DAYS, GIRLS THOUGHTIN' OF GETTIN' MARRIED, GOES TO COLLEGE AN' TAKES UP A SPECIAL COURSE IN THAT KINDA STUFF!!
WHAT CAN THEY TEACH YOU IN COLLEGE ABOUT MANAGING A HOUSE AND HUSBAND??
THEY TEACH YER DOMESTIC SILENCE!!
SAY—HOW DO YOU MEAN THAT??

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All the Trains

"NUMBER 17 IS BLOWING FOR MINK'S STATION TWO MILE AWAY—IF YOU THINK YOU CAN MAKE ENUF SPEED T' GIT ACROSS BEFORE SHE REACHES HERE WHY COME AHEAD"
The watchman at Fingert Crossing is a great kisser and he usually stops the car just to have a little fun with the Skipper.

Wheatley's Story of Training Camp Activities and Amusements

Lineup With Which the Crackers Will Start Campaign About Settled Pitching a Problem.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

Bay St. Louis, Miss., March 27.—(Special.)—Monday marked the opening of the third week of the Atlanta Crackers spring training season, and Captain Eiland is greatly pleased at the progress made by the players in arriving at the proper form.

The squad is in much better condition than was the case last season, when, at this stage of the training, Atlanta was busily engaged in the disastrous invasion of the Texas camp. Ideal weather has been the rule since practice started and the team is in perfect form.

It is also possible to get a line on the players. In the catching department Bill Kariden and Butch Schmidt will once more be the mainstays. It appears that Roy McEllan, the Savannah sandlotter, will be carried along, the idea being to give him experience for the burden he is certain of these days to carry for Atlanta.

The pitching offers a real problem. Four regulars from last season are in camp. Suggs, Marshall, Napier and Bedgood are the left-handers, while Erskine, Mayer, Williamson, Bolt, Roberts, Hymel and Cowan are the right-handers who are striving for places.

It appears that Erskine Mayer is certain of a place. Of course he has lost lots of the stuff that made him one of the best pitchers in the business when he was with the Phillies, but right now he looks good enough to win many games in the Southern league. If six pitchers are carried, Lee Bolt, a Georgia State league star, will probably draw the assignment. This staff should compare favorably with any in the circuit.

Bill Richardson, a hard hitting youngster, gave a good account of himself at first base when he wrenched his knee. This leaves the field open to "Dutch" Horton, a Georgia State league star, who is expected to play.

Arthur Ritter, at second base; Fred Graff, at third, and Roy Eiland at the shortstop will complete the infield. All have shown up nicely, although Captain Eiland has lost most of the work at shortstop to George Schmidt, while he directed the training routine.

Until "Red" Wingo signs his contract, "Dizzy" Carlisle will play left field. If Carlisle keeps up his good work, it is extremely doubtful if Wingo can keep his old job. Joe Guyon in right field and Sammy Meyer in center round out the team.

BILL RARDEN KILLS THE FIRST MOSQUITO. The philosophy of Room Eleven, Klock hotel, "Wall Bill" Rarden we are referring to, gets credit for the murder of the first mosquito reported this spring. Bill's victim was a monster, evidently the leader of his clan out for a tour of inspection of prospects at the Crackers camp.

The mosquitoes are running late on their schedule. Last year a delegation of the little pests met the early arrivals at the station and a banquet was held that night. This season training activities have been under way for almost two weeks and only one has put in an appearance. Albert Jones, chief of police at Editor Moreau, Mayor Webb and other citizens of prominence interviewed concerning the phenomenon were unable to offer any explanation.

Bill's massive right hand committed the foul deed, despite the fact that he is suffering considerably from a cold in that old flinging field. Bill forgot the other day for a minute that he wasn't a coy youth any longer, got up a peach of a sweat and walked right into a man's face. Result: Cold that settled in his right arm and more business for the liniment manufacturers.

Between Bill's liniment and Buddy Napier's snoring, this correspondent is having a hard time getting any more sleep than was outlined by Mr. Edison as being enough for any human being.

Four hours, we believe, Mr. Edison declared was ample for the average man, but Mr. Edison isn't average.

Buddy has the plaintive sort of snore that sounds like the snore note of a saxophone in some of this mood corn jazz. A buzz saw striking a nail in a piece of timber hasn't a thing on the noises made by Napier while he's sleeping. The first night he spent in Number Eleven took us back to the sawmills of our youth, but Buddy and Bill seem to stand the storm nicely.

Dewey Marshall, who also has snoring placing Number Eleven stated he had trouble at first, but he has worked out a system of putting all his clothes over his ears and in this way manages to sleep despite of Buddy's efforts.

STRONG COLLEGE BASEBALL TEAMS. From all indications, southern baseball fans are going to see some mighty fine ball while the professional outfits are whipping into shape. We are not speaking of the exhibition games that are finding places on the sporting pages these days, but of the college teams, that are opening their schedules.

The situation in the sovereign state of Georgia appears to be particularly promising. We're some twelve hours from the scene of activities at present, but Uncle Samuel's mail service, despite a republican administration, is carrying these daily copies of this standard southern newspaper reach Crackers headquarters. We're able to follow the trend of affairs nicely.

College competition looks to be capable of taking a lot of lickings and fight right back. Their showing against Georgia and Auburn was excellent. College competition looks on considerable strength when Benning was established.

The main interest, however, lies in Georgia and Tech. Wankers are pitching department, that worried the Red and Black's supporters throughout the winter, has not appeared, and the team seems to be a peach. Sale's pitching against the Bulldogs was excellent. The pitching of Allison, "Sunshine" Thompson, Dan O'Leary and several others, will likely have many southern college nines dizzy before the season closes.

The firm of Ingram, Barron and Co. in the outfield, will hit with the best in the business. It is our opinion that the Atlanta Crackers are making any team in the Southern league, and Barron has possibilities if he ever cares to enter the game profession.

Meyer will have a fine team, and the Auburn Tiger is rapidly arriving at the point necessary to win games. All things considered, college baseball in the south this year will prove pleasing.

LITTLE CHANCE FOR BAY ST. LOUIS. At the training, it appears that the third Bay St. Louis boy to try for a berth with the Crackers is doomed for failure. Little Joe Farthing who played here yesterday with the Mexican Petroleum outfit, was the first local product to sign and missed on account of his size. "Lefty" Covey was the next, and showed nothing to warrant retention. Now it seems that Young Hymel is to take the count.

Hymel is very popular with the fans here, and they believed firmly at the start that he would land, but Hymel can hardly stand the heat. Last year he tried out with Beaumont and pitched fairly well, but later going to Lake Charles, where he finished the season. He appeared to be ripe for a contract this season, but the Dutchman offered a tryout.

Since the pitchers were given permission to open up if they desired, several of the acquisitions have forged ahead of Hymel. As long as the efforts were held to lobbing the pellet over, Hymel was on top of the heap. He has good control and looked to be a real find, but he is fading.

Control seems to be his only virtue. He has no fast ball, and there is nothing mysterious about his curve. He has a fighting spirit, however, and hasn't given up by any means, but he is apparently fighting a losing battle. The most promising of the recruit hurriers, to our way of thinking, is Lee Bolt. The young man gave a good account of himself Thursday against the St. Stanislaus collegians, and has had plenty of stuff in the workouts. It is doubtful if he is ready for Class A company now, but if he continues to improve, he will put up a splendid fight for a position.

Lefty Cowan was a big feature during the early days of training, and the lad evidently laid it on too strongly, as he is now suffering from a sore arm that might handicap him considerably. If he succeeds in patching himself up before the jobs are awarded, he will probably be given much consideration.

Williamson shows some promise, but he will hardly be retained. He is taking things as they come, gradually reaching his top form. When he arrives at that point, he might show up to much better advantage than he has to date, in which event the selecting of the recruit to trail along with the team this summer will become a complicated affair.

MANY AMUSING STUNTS PULLED. If playing pranks is any indication that pep exists on a baseball team, the Atlanta Crackers will have plenty of

EXHIBITION GAMES

At Galveston, March 27:
Score R. H. E.
St. Louis (N).....13 19 1
Philadelphia.....8 5 5
Batteries: Davis, Danforth; Bay Collins, Severid; Miller, Deberry and Meyer, Monk.

At Pensacola, March 27:
Score R. H. E.
St. Louis (A).....6 12 4
Louisville (AA).....3 7 0
Batteries: Davis, Danforth; Bay Collins, Severid; Miller, Deberry and Meyer, Monk.

At Aiken, S. C., March 27:
Score R. H. E.
Detroit (A).....6 10 1
Augusta (BA).....5 15 1
Batteries: Krugg, Johns and Miller; Stoner, Benson, Nichols and Agnew.

At Little Rock, March 27:
Score R. H. E.
Little Rock (S).....6 13 2
Shreveport (Texas).....4 8 1
Batteries: Schall, Oengros, Fernald and Tamm; Brown, Jolly, Stone and Cady Pratt.

MANAGER OF LATONIA RACE TRACK PASSES

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 27.—Harry Breivogel, resident manager of the Latonia (Ky.) race track, died at his home in Detroit yesterday. He was learned here. He had been ill for a year.

that admirable quality during the summer. Early in the season he was a victim of some harmless but amusing prank.

The other night some one harpooned a flock of cranes that infest the waters hereabouts and deposited them in the beds occupied by Sammy Mayer and Fred Graff. The screams of anguish were heard all over Bay St. Louis as Sammy and Fred tore out of bed.

An eel, placed in Roy McEllan's bed, scared that youngster out of his wits. He actually grew a gray hair or two when the eel climbed over his frame. He hasn't been the same youth since.

Dewey Marshall came in last night and found that every all had been taken from his bed, the noise of his two hundred pounds hitting the floor, leading the oldest natives to believe that a ship had foundered on the beach.

MUDDY WATER RUNS FISHING IN TEXAS. Fishing in the Gulf of Mexico has been spoiled for the time being and the newspaper men are working something out. They have made a deal with the Texas Game and Fish Commission for three seasons. It rained here during most of February and the early part of March. The result was that the muddy water that came down from the Jordan river, which empties into the Gulf of Mexico at this point.

Mr. Blake and the Yankees believed we could catch fish regardless of the condition of the water, and tried earnestly for two days. The net they used, however, was not big enough to select champions along various lines, usually using the recruits as material for his awards. We aren't going to do that, mainly because we have not any recruits at this camp. The players are mostly tried and true.

However, there are champions. In shrimp catching, for instance, we have seen more real eaters of this catfish bait, but for ways that, opened our eyes in the art of shrimp-catching. Erskine Mayer is awarded the handsome hand-painted marble bath towel. Erskine eats shrimp in all languages, a thorough master in this second of the world's most popular food.

The other night Bob Webb, who is mayor of this ballwreck when he isn't steward for the Crackers, gave the boys a fine supper. The menu included oysters, speckled trout, shrimp cocktail, crab gumbo, or something like that, and every other variety of sea food imaginable. The idea of course, was to take a fling at every fish, but Erskine declined absolutely to stray beyond shrimp. He ate for a solid hour and wouldn't have stopped then had not the cook, who is a devout Christian of the Hardshell denomination, remembered that a foot-washing was slated at her church.

The pinchole championship is a much-mooted question. Freddie Graff and several others claim the toga, and the argument won't be settled until the return orders are issued. It's this way every year. Pinchole is one battle that is never decided until the night before the start is made toward home scenery.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Thank Allah, there is no piano playing championship. As a subject of more praise to Allah, there isn't even a piano player in camp. If you've heard a ball playing, piano star in spring training, you'll understand what we mean in saying that inmates of the Crackers hotel are thankful that none of the species was harpooned for March duty in Bay St. Louis.

Checkers is a new pastime in the camp, and there are few stars in it at this time. It is proving popular and our money is on pore old Blake, who started at the bottom of the ladder and is working his way toward the top. The crown of raspberries in this new sport appears to be destined for the brow of Guy Butler, who, apparently, has a strange hold on last position.

Fullerton Starts Doping Outfields; Great Attacking Power Here

Left Fielders Listed and Compared—Ball Used a Factor—Shifts Unsettle Dope.

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Spring dope on the baseball clubs reveals a whole lot of the strengths and weaknesses of ball clubs, and gives a clew to some of the mysteries that are hard to understand. Nothing, perhaps, gives so clear an idea of the remarkable change that has come over the style of playing the game in recent years as the study of the attacking power of the outfielders.

In this system of dope, where it is necessary to tear the official records of each player to pieces, analyze them and find out the power points of the game at which he excels or in which he is weak, we discover not only the individual ability of men but the style of attack used by the teams. Since the majority of the teams are using the slugging system, cutting down the value of men who can sacrifice and wait and run the bases, we find changes in individual values of men—a depreciation in the worth of some of the smart, fast men, a corresponding increase in the figure values of men who take toe holds and slug home runs.

The big problem in studying the outfielders especially is whether or not the ball to be used this season is the same as that in use early last year. If the modified lively ball is used (as I figure it will be) it will restore former average values of many men and reduce the value of sheer slug.

For purposes of reaching a better basis, used the work of the players from July 4 to the end of last season, calculating that the first of the season, the entire season, although, of course, I had to utilize the complete figures to a large extent.

ATTACKING POWER IN LEFT FIELD. We find tremendous attacking power allocated to left field—and to my surprise a somewhat more even distribution than was expected. Since the loss of the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders. In fact, the loss to the team will not be as heavy as the fans appear to think, the New York Yankees still figure best among the left fielders.

BENNING A. A. U. TOURNAMENT POSTPONED

BY BILL MORROW.

The Southern Boxing tournament scheduled to be held this week at Columbus, Ga., has been postponed. This fact was made public by "Jake" Sartaine, boxing instructor at Oglethorpe university, yesterday after he received a telegram from the authorities at Camp Benning. The telegram stated that the tournament would be held one week from the original date set, April 4, 5, 6. The reason necessitating this change was not given in the message to Sartaine.

Representatives from all over the south will gather at Columbus, on above dates. Several of the universities offering courses in boxing will send men to this meet, and with different athletic associations will be on hand to show their amateur prowess with the padded mitts.

The exact list of those entered has not been given out for publication. It is the belief that this meet, held under the auspices of the officers' training school, will bring to light quite a few boxers. Camp Benning has entered a strong aggregation, while Birmingham is sending a team that has come through in the past with flying colors. Oglethorpe will send the best men to represent her that can be found at the university. The Petrel team will be composed of five men, a quintet that will bear watching.

The average boxing fan and lover of college sports fails to realize just what these matches mean. Some imagine that they are only tapping exhibitions with a nice show of toe dancing thrown in for good measure, but if they had visited the matches held at Birmingham last year, they would quickly change their opinion. Real ability, combined with that "old fighting spirit" is certainly present in the majority of these contests.

Oglethorpe university boxing team is Roberts, that 225-pound lion in heavy weight division; Porter for the light-heavy; Vickers for the middleweight; Bryant, a welter, and Simpson, a bantam.

WOMAN'S BENEFIT MEMBERS ENJOY BANQUET MONDAY. The Women's Benefit association, formerly known as the Ladies of the Maccabees, initiated a large class of candidates Monday evening following a banquet at the Ansley hotel.

The program for Monday, the big day in the campaign for new members, included a meeting at 9 o'clock at the Ansley hotel, in which the officers and members of the society were given instructions. Plans for the future also were discussed.

At 6 o'clock a banquet was served on the Ansley roof. The meeting followed at 8 o'clock, which was featured by the splendid work of the guard team of Jennifer review, accompanied by the color bearers from Atlanta review No. 1.

Those who composed the class initiated were secured through the efforts of the various reviews, Georgia review No. 11 leading the list with the largest number. Other reviews follow in rank according to the number of candidates secured: Atlanta review No. 1, Jennifer review, Cedar town, Rome, Carrollton, Deatur and Macon reviews.

Miss Margaret Littlejohn, deputy supreme commander of Georgia, presided. Throughout the campaign she has been the guiding spirit, and it has been through her efforts, assisted by able corps of deputies, that the drive for new members has met with the success that has crowned its effort.

A warm tribute was paid Mrs. Littlejohn by her co-workers, who praised her untiring energy in the service of the society. At the close of the meeting a handsome gift was presented her, while each of the deputies were given a fountain pen. A telegram was sent to the supreme commander, Miss Bina M. West, pledging a large class for the close of the lap ending June 30.

The officers of the association present at the initiation ceremonies were as follows: Mrs. Frances Horecker, commander; Miss Agnes Beasley, lieutenant; Miss Margaret Camp, collector; Miss Rosalie Guess, record keeper; Miss Alice Parks, chaplain; Miss Flora Pinson, past commander; Miss Mary Perkins, sergeant; Miss Lila Smith, sentinel; Mrs. Leila Garner, picket; Miss Theresa Hoffman, physician; Miss Mary Beasley and Jennie Parks, color bearers.

SCHAEFER DEFEATS HOPPE, 500 TO 466. Chicago, March 27.—Young Jake Schaefer, world's 18-2 belting billiard champion, tonight defeated Willard Hoppe, former titleholder, 500 to 466, in the first block of the 1,500-point match.

TERRY GETS FRACTURED WRIST IN PRACTICE. Chicago, March 27.—Zeb Terry, Chicago second baseman, will be out of the game for at least a month because of a fractured wrist suffered in batting practice yesterday. Max Flack, right fielder, is at home in East St. Louis with a fractured skull, and will be out for two

Safe Milk for INFANTS and INVALIDS

ASK FOR Horlick's
Malted Milk
the Original Avoid Imitations
and Substitutes

For Infants, Invalids and Growing Children
The Original Food-Drink For All Ages

Rich milk, malted grain extract in Powder
No Cooking—Nourishing—Digestible

ONLY 75¢

Let the QUEEN Comb Improve Your Charm

THESE combs, when heated, straighten out unruly curly hair, giving it a charming, silken finish which you'll adore.

The benefits derived from the comb are greatly increased by the use of QUEEN HAIR DRESSING. This Dressing is a new discovery, which gives you long, straight, beautiful locks of hair. Use it once and you'll appreciate its service. Send 25¢ in stamps for the big box of Queen Hair Dressing, which lasts for many weeks.

Be sure you get the original QUEEN HAIR DRESSING which comes only in a slink can with black stripes.

Try QUEEN DRESSING and you will be delighted with results.

NEWBRO MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Atlanta, Georgia.

FOR SALE

Flat newsprint paper suitable for small publishers and job printers. The price is right.

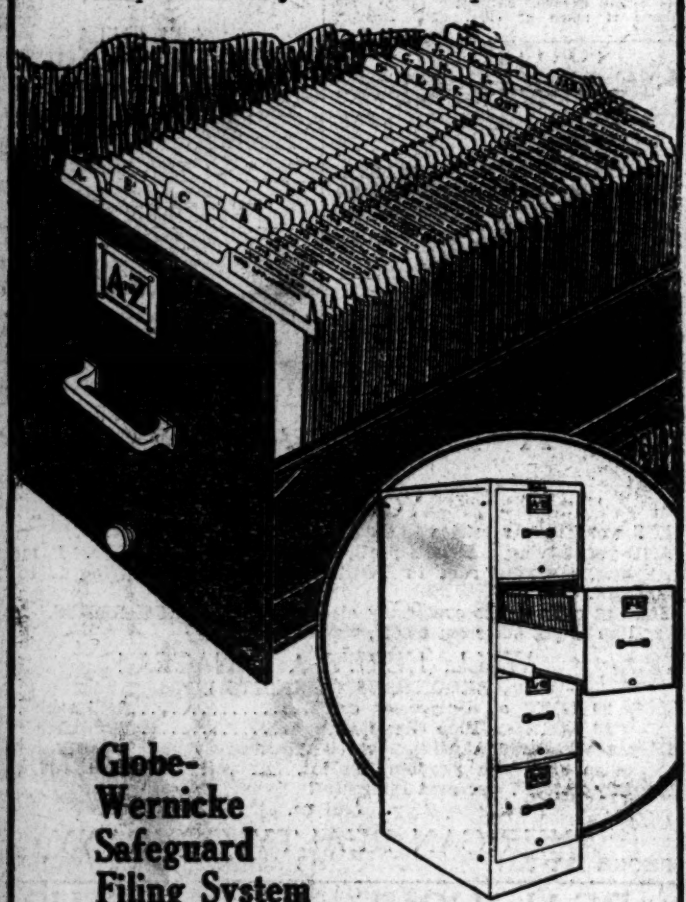

P. O. Box 1731, Atlanta, Ga.

Globe-Wernicke

BUILT TO ENDURE

Quick and Sure

is the finding of letters filed by the Globe-Wernicke Safeguard Method—comprehensive, efficient, simple, and adapted to any business or profession.

Globe-Wernicke Safeguard Filing System

This system comprises Primary Alphabetical Guides with indexed tabs in first, second and third positions counting from left to right—Auxiliary Alphabetical or Monthly Guides with indexed tabs in fourth or center position—and Individual Folders with long tabs in fifth position, at right, indexed with special names or subjects.

By the proper arrangement of these Guides and Folders any letter, whether filed by name, date, subject or location can be found instantly.

Let us show you how easily this system will care for your correspondence. Call, phone or write for descriptive circular illustrating and describing this system.

BAYLIS OFFICE EQUIPMENT CO.

No. 1 South Broad St. Phone Main 2800

DESKS, CHAIRS, TABLES, FILING CABINETS IN WOOD AND STEEL, SECTIONAL BOOKCASES, FIRE-PROOF SAFES AND VAULT DOORS, COMMERCIAL STATIONERY.

CORONA TYPEWRITERS

Globe-Wernicke AGENCY

USE CONSTITUTION WANT ADS.

IMPERIAL HOTEL
—ABSOLUTELY FIREPROOF—
Peachtree St. at Ivy St., Atlanta

An attractive transient and residential hotel; beautiful rooms carefully maintained; moderate rates daily and weekly.

HUGH F. GALVIN, Proprietor.

THE KEELEY INSTITUTE
GREENSBORO, N.C.

FOR THE TREATMENT OF WHISKEY AND DRUG ADDICTION, THE TOBACCO HABIT AND NERVE EXHAUSTION

THIRTY YEARS SUCCESSFUL OPERATION

CORRESPONDENCE CONFIDENTIAL

EVANKS MANTEL & TILE COMPANY

MANTELS
TILE FLOORS AND WALLS

45 AUBURN AVE. ATLANTA, GA.

If it can be cooked better, we'll do it.

That's our motto—it must be the Best, cooked the Best and served the Best.

Our service is as near perfect as it is possible—try a meal here today.

The Daffodil

111 N. PRYOR

Every Soda Fountain carries the Delicious Little Cakes made by us. Our Sandwiches are also sold by Fountains. Ask for them by name.

Prestolite Men Endorse Ostby's Big 1922 Business Building Plan

Battery Distributors of Southeast Accept Systematic Campaign for Business of Present Year.

Prestolite battery distributors of the southeast assembled in convention here Monday, unanimously endorsing and accepting Prestolite's plan for business building in 1922.

The big merchandising and servicing plan was presented to these representative battery men by Oscar F. Ostby, assistant general sales manager for Prestolite and manager of their small tank division. The enthusiasm with which the plan was accepted is believed by Mr. Ostby to be indicative of the splendid fighting spirit of the business men in his organization in the southeast.

The plan briefly is an intensive selling and service plan in which the factory and distributor join hands and forces in securing and holding battery replacement and service business.

Advertising will play an important part in the campaign. National periodicals, trade papers, outdoor mediums, specialties and newspapers are being used, the first two mediums at the expense of the factory and the latter three in co-operation with distributors and dealers.

Excellent Co-operation. The plan is well under way in some sections of the country and Mr. Ostby is being warmly congratulated upon the excellent co-operation which has enlisted on the part of distributors, and also upon the instant response with which the public has accepted this big campaign for better business.

Mr. Ostby is a forceful business executive, and his co-workers declare that much credit is due for the plan and especially for its execution. The dealers in convention here, without exception, signed up to put the new plan into operation. They will leave Atlanta Tuesday evening to put their own organizations in shape to care for a better business in a more satisfactory manner.

Recently Promoted. Mr. Ostby has been with the Prestolite company in their gas division for a number of years, and his uniform is a testament to his long service.

EUROPEAN TOUR
PRIVATE PARTY, first-class throughout, sails June 7th for three months' tour of Europe.

vacancies. Write for particulars to Miss Elizabeth Redford, 809 Sixteenth avenue, South Nashville, Tennessee.

John Shuey, class president, at 331 E. Mitchell street, and Hubert F. Lee, in charge of arrangements, at 1103 Healey building, are selling tickets.

The entertainment was originally planned to be given Friday night but due to the East Atlanta school announcing a bazaar the date was put off one night.

Reactor's Cafe
A PLACE TO EAT
PLATE DINNER With Coffee 30c
A Regular DINNER 45c
Regular SUPPER 50c

170 Peachtree St. Opp. Howard Theatre.

MELL PLUMBING CO.
Jas. Stewart, Prop.
HEATING AND PLUMBING
29 S. Pryor St. Main 901

We bring our tools and materials with us on every repair job.

We Teach Beauty Culture
Increasing demand for operators in Hair Dressing and Manicuring Parlors. Also work. Good pay. Course 6 weeks. Personal instruction given. Write today.

Mrs. Sarah A. Blake, Principal.
THE S. A. CLAYTON CO.
15 East Hunter St., Atlanta, Ga.

STENOGRAPHERS
charged with the responsibility of getting out good letters, and who take a pride in their work, are invited to try our service.

Atlanta Multigraphing Co.
Letter Specialists.
410 Flatiron Building. Tel. Try 1486.

AUSTIN ABBOTT
239 Peachtree Ivy 69

For Baby's Health and Happiness Get a "KIDDIE KARE" SAND BOX

WEST LUMBER CO.

Ready to Nail Delivered to Your Yard For Only $9.75

Phone Your Order Right Now

Clean sand, four heavy pieces for sides of box, four pieces for umbrella holder, a big sun and rainproof umbrella—nails, paint and brush. YOU'LL ENJOY PUTTING IT TOGETHER form success and resourcefulness in this department led to his recent appointment as assistant general sales manager for Prestolite and manager of their small tank division. The enthusiasm with which the plan was accepted is believed by Mr. Ostby to be indicative of the splendid fighting spirit of the business men in his organization in the southeast, and is considered one of the best district men in the organization.

West Lumber Co.
25 PETERS STREET PHONE MAIN 1745

Business Better.

Mr. Ostby exhibited figures showing a 65 per cent increase in replacement business thus far in 1922 over 1921. He explained that this was due to several factors, including improvement in business conditions, increase in Prestolite facilities and a growing public favor for the Prestolite product and the service rendered by their distributors and service stations.

As evidence of the growth of Prestolite business in the southeast, Mr. Ostby stated the fact that in 1917 they had the factory at Macon, Ga., and today they have three automobile leaves their factories equipped with Prestolite batteries.

Mr. Ostby's plan for better business in 1922.

HAWK TO ENTERTAIN AT "FOLLIES" SHOW

Edward L. Hawk, teacher of business psychology, who is now conducting a course in business psychology at the Wesley Memorial church, will analyze the characters of four persons in a six-minute demonstration of the film "The April Fool Follies," to be given Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Rogers building, in East Atlanta.

"Follies" are being sponsored by the adult Wesley class of the Martha Brown Memorial church.

Of the five other distinct novelties offered on that night are: R. L. Troy and Mitchell street, and Hubert F. Lee, in charge of arrangements, at 1103 Healey building, are selling tickets.

The entertainment was originally planned to be given Friday night but due to the East Atlanta school announcing a bazaar the date was put off one night.

Reactor's Cafe
A PLACE TO EAT
PLATE DINNER With Coffee 30c
A Regular DINNER 45c
Regular SUPPER 50c

170 Peachtree St. Opp. Howard Theatre.

MELL PLUMBING CO.
Jas. Stewart, Prop.
HEATING AND PLUMBING
29 S. Pryor St. Main 901

We bring our tools and materials with us on every repair job.

We Teach Beauty Culture
Increasing demand for operators in Hair Dressing and Manicuring Parlors. Also work. Good pay. Course 6 weeks. Personal instruction given. Write today.

Mrs. Sarah A. Blake, Principal.
THE S. A. CLAYTON CO.
15 East Hunter St., Atlanta, Ga.

STENOGRAPHERS
charged with the responsibility of getting out good letters, and who take a pride in their work, are invited to try our service.

Atlanta Multigraphing Co.
Letter Specialists.
410 Flatiron Building. Tel. Try 1486.

AUSTIN ABBOTT
239 Peachtree Ivy 69

For Baby's Health and Happiness Get a "KIDDIE KARE" SAND BOX

WEST LUMBER CO.

Ready to Nail Delivered to Your Yard For Only $9.75

Phone Your Order Right Now

Clean sand, four heavy pieces for sides of box, four pieces for umbrella holder, a big sun and rainproof umbrella—nails, paint and brush. YOU'LL ENJOY PUTTING IT TOGETHER

West Lumber Co.
25 PETERS STREET PHONE MAIN 1745

TAILORED SUIT

$22.50 To $45.00

The best of foreign importation and American wools are here—ready for your inspection.

BLUE SERGE $32.50

Guaranteed Best Color and All Wool

STANDARD TAILORING CO.
54 W. Mitchell Street

"DOPE" RING CHARGES PROBED IN CENTRAL CITY

Macon, Ga., March 27.—(Special.) Macon police are investigating charges made in police court today, by Mrs. P. M. McNeil, a white woman arrested on a charge of luring, that a "dope" ring exists in Macon. Mrs. McNeil gave the police a list of names of persons she claims are involved and a number of arrests is expected shortly.

Mrs. McNeil admitted she is a drug user and claimed she often has bought drugs on the streets of Macon.

"It is no trouble at all to obtain drugs," she said.

BIRTHS REPORTED

To Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coleman, 113 Estoria street, a boy, March 26.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Backley, 46 Stawood avenue, a boy, February 25.

To Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harrison, 11 Harlow street, a girl, March 25.

To Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Butler, 112 Middle street, a girl, March 25.

To Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Nichols, 408 South Pryor street, a boy, March 25.

To Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dick, 20 Clifton street, a boy, March 25.

MORTUARY

J. K. Knowles.
J. K. Knowles, 49 years old, of 75 Gaskill street, died Monday at a private hospital. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. B. W. Morrell and Miss Billie Knowles; two sons, Roy and Frank Knowles; two sisters, Mrs. J. T. Barker and Mrs. John Henley, and a brother, Neil Knowles. Harry G. Poole in charge.

Bennett G. Mills.
Bennett G. Mills died Monday at the residence, 491 Simpson street. He is survived by his widow, two daughters, Misses Evelyn and Juanita Mills; four sons, Harry, Gordon, Claude and Roger Mills; a brother, Luke Mills, of Rochester; two sisters, Mrs. O. R. Sweet and Mrs. A. D. Curry; and parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mills. Harry G. Poole in charge.

Mrs. Mary Z. Lambert.
Mrs. Mary Z. Lambert died Monday at the residence in Forest Park. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. J. C. Cash, of Thomasville; Mrs. B. J. Sautter, of Atlanta; Mrs. J. S. Sautter, of East Point; Mrs. R. C. Lee, and Mrs. L. D. Hightower, of Stockbridge; and Mrs. F. L. Anderson, of Forest Park; and five brothers, Mr. C. C. Horn, J. B. Lambert, of Atlanta; J. C. Lambert, of Parish, Ga.; J. T. and C. J. Lambert, of Forest Park. Harry G. Poole in charge.

Miss Zoe Davis.
Miss Zoe Davis died Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davis, 408 Ormond street. The body was taken to Harry G. Poole's undertaking parlors.

James Thomas Bracewell.
James Thomas Bracewell, 10 years old, died Monday afternoon at a local hospital. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davis, 408 Ormond street. The body was taken to Harry G. Poole's undertaking parlors.

East Lake Road Druid Hills

There is a very attractive group of bungalows on East Lake Road, near Durand Road, and in this section we have a few unsold lots. The size is about 60x300; price $2,500, divided into a series of annual payments. One very select lot which we sold a year ago and which has considerable improvements on it can be resold at $3,000.

It is one of the most desirable lots now for sale on East Lake Road. A list of the equipment can be had by writing or calling on the undersigned.

By order of
J. K. LANDERS
Purchasing Agent, City of Atlanta.

Adair Realty & Trust Company

Millions of Dollars Yearly

are secured from persons of moderate means for fake promotions by magnetic and forceful salesmen, who are skilled artisans with pleasing personalities. Investment as a science takes years to cultivate. For over thirty years we have specialized on Real Estate Loans in Atlanta without the loss of a dollar for any client. If you want your funds placed safely, buy a Real Estate Mortgage through

WEYMAN & CONNORS

FOUNDED 1890
Sam Weyman Boyne Gibson Andrew Chapman
623-4-5-6 Grant Building—Atlanta

Country Bankers' Association

Drop in to see us while you are here —We'll be glad to see you.

FOOTE & DAVIES COMPANY
Bank Outfitters
"Five Seconds From Five Points"
Edgewood and Pryor

Lithographers

Loans on Central Business Property and First-Class Residences desired for an Eastern Insurance Company.

W. CARROLL LATIMER
Attorney-at-Law
1509 Fourth National Bank Building Atlanta, Georgia

ALONZO RICHARDSON & CO.
Certified Public Accountants
ATLANTA TRUST CO. BLDG. 1100 N. W. COR. ATLANTA

$5.95 COAL $5.95
KENTUCKY BLOCK
STANDARD COAL COMPANY
PHONES IVY 8400-4620

Lodge Notices

Account of mission conducted by the Georgia Chapter, No. 125, will be held in the City of Atlanta, Ga., on this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The past and most excellent degrees will be conferred. All duly qualified companions are invited to attend.

JOHN OATLEY, High Priest.
C. C. CHAMBERLAIN, Secretary.

East Point Chapter's regular convocation will be held this (Tuesday) evening, March 28, 1922, at 8 o'clock. Most Excellent Master degree. A full attendance of the company is desired.

All R. A. Masons invited.

J. H. HODGES, H. P.
P. A. JOHNSON, Secretary.

The regular communication of Gate City Lodge, No. 2, will be held this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Past Master degree will be conferred by the master.

HARRY YORK, W. M.
J. G. BENTON, Secretary.

The regular communication of Gate City Lodge, No. 2, will be held this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Past Master degree will be conferred by the master.

WM. H. TURNER, JR., M. G.
LEE A. WIGGINS, Secretary.

The stated meeting of Atlanta Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will be held in Masonic Temple this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. All qualified DeMolays and all Master Masons are cordially invited to attend. Business meeting and rehearsal of the initiatory degree.

WM. H. TURNER, JR., M. G.
LEE A. WIGGINS, Secretary.

The regular convocation of the Georgia Chapter, No. 125, will be held in the City of Atlanta, Ga., on this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The past and most excellent degrees will be conferred. All duly qualified companions are invited to attend.

W. A. REYNOLDS, C. C.
Attest: R. L. OWENS, K. of R. & S.

NOTICE:
Sale of Town of Kirkwood Waterworks Equipment.

Bids will be received at the office of the undersigned, second floor City Hall, for the sale of various waterworks equipment now located in the town of Kirkwood, which has been acquired by the City of Atlanta.

A list of the equipment can be had by writing or calling on the undersigned.

By order of
J. K. LANDERS
Purchasing Agent, City of Atlanta.

CALL BELLE ISLE TAXICABS

East Lake Road Druid Hills

There is a very attractive group of bungalows on East Lake Road, near Durand Road, and in this section we have a few unsold lots. The size is about 60x300; price $2,500, divided into a series of annual payments. One very select lot which we sold a year ago and which has considerable improvements on it can be resold at $3,000.

It is one of the most desirable lots now for sale on East Lake Road. A list of the equipment can be had by writing or calling on the undersigned.

By order of
J. K. LANDERS
Purchasing Agent, City of Atlanta.

Adair Realty & Trust Company

Millions of Dollars Yearly

are secured from persons of moderate means for fake promotions by magnetic and forceful salesmen, who are skilled artisans with pleasing personalities. Investment as a science takes years to cultivate. For over thirty years we have specialized on Real Estate Loans in Atlanta without the loss of a dollar for any client. If you want your funds placed safely, buy a Real Estate Mortgage through

WEYMAN & CONNORS

FOUNDED 1890
Sam Weyman Boyne Gibson Andrew Chapman
623-4-5-6 Grant Building—Atlanta

Country Bankers' Association

Drop in to see us while you are here —We'll be glad to see you.

FOOTE & DAVIES COMPANY
Bank Outfitters
"Five Seconds From Five Points"
Edgewood and Pryor

Lithographers

Loans on Central Business Property and First-Class Residences desired for an Eastern Insurance Company.

W. CARROLL LATIMER
Attorney-at-Law
1509 Fourth National Bank Building Atlanta, Georgia

ALONZO RICHARDSON & CO.
Certified Public Accountants
ATLANTA TRUST CO. BLDG. 1100 N. W. COR. ATLANTA

Funeral Notices

MILLS—Died. Monday morning, the remains of Mrs. S. J. Mills, 48 years of age. Funeral arrangements to be announced later by Awtry & Lowndes Co.

MANNING—The friends of Mr. C. C. Manning, of 101 Neal street, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Manning (Tuesday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes Co. Interment, West View.

DAVIS—Miss Zoe Davis died Monday afternoon at the residence, 408 Ormond street. She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Davis. Funeral and interment will be announced later. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

LISK—Mrs. Ellen Lisk, age 67, died on March 26 at her home in Chambliss, Ga. She is survived by three daughters, Misses Mattie, Lula and Susie Lisk, and two sons, T. F. and J. H. Lisk. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock a. m. Tuesday, March 28, at Oak Grove cemetery. Interment, in charge.

KNOWLES—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Knowles and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Morrell, Messrs. Roy and Frank Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. John Henley, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Knowles, are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. J. K. Knowles Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Interment Mt. Zion.

IVEY—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ivey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ivey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cannon, Mrs. Georgia Moore and Mr. and Mrs. John Hood, are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Thomas Ivey Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, from the residence, 330 E. Hunter street. Interment Casey cemetery. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

PUCKETT—Mrs. Lee Puckett died Monday afternoon, at a private sanitarium in the city of Atlanta. She is survived by her husband, Mr. Lee Puckett, and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Moore, and two daughters, Mrs. J. C. and Mrs. E. Frank North. The remains were removed to the parlors of Harry G. Poole. Funeral and interment will be announced later.

BRACEWELL—The friends of Master James Thomas Bracewell, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bracewell, Nettie Amie Bracewell and Mrs. T. M. Moss, of Jackson, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Master James Thomas Bracewell, Tuesday (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock, from Salem church, near Flippin, Ga. Interment churchyard. Funeral party will leave the chapel of Harry G. Poole at 8 a. m.

YARBOROUGH—Mrs. Julia C. Yarbrough, age 22, died at her home near Decatur, Ga., on March 25. She is survived by one son, Mr. Jack Yarbrough, and one daughter, Mrs. Pauline Dickinson. Mrs. Ollie Johnson, Mrs. Mamie Grissard, Mrs. Essie Ward, Mrs. W. H. C. Turner, and several others are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Yarbrough Tuesday, March 28, at 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, March 28, by Rev. Bartlett. A. C. Turner, funeral director, in charge.

TODD—The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar B. Todd, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cavender, Mr. and Mrs. R. Todd, Mrs. Louie Loke, of Birmingham, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. Berry Todd, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williamson are invited to attend the funeral of Mr. Oscar B. Todd this (Tuesday) morning at 11 o'clock from the residence, 121 Managault street. Interment Sylvan. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

DORSEY—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Cam D. Dorsey, Mrs. Rufus Dorsey, Judge and Mrs. Samuel B. Adams, are invited to attend the funeral services of Rufus Thomas Dorsey, Tuesday, March 28, at 4:30 o'clock. Rev. S. E. Jackson will officiate. Interment will be in West View cemetery. The following gentlemen selected to act as pallbearers: Mr. and Mrs. Cam D. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Cam D. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Cam D. Dor